His Excellency the Acting Governor and the Honorable Council then withdrawing, the Senate was called to order by Earle C. Gordon, clerk of the Senate of last session.

The clerk stated that the first business was the election of a temporary presiding officer.

On motion of Senator Morrill, Senator Tufts was chosen temporary presiding officer.

The clerk requested Senators Morrill and Barnes to conduct the temporary presiding officer to the chair.

Senator Tufts, having assumed the chair, the Senate proceeded to the choice of a President by ballot, with the following result:

The Chair requested Senators Donahue and Daley to conduct the President to the chair.

The President, having assumed the chair, addressed the Senate as follows:

Senators:

In accepting this important office which you have so generously given me I assure you that I deeply appreciate the responsibilities which it implies. In return for this kind expression of your confidence I shall endeavor, with the best of my abilities, to discharge faithfully and impartially all my duties as presiding officer of the honorable body.

The State of New Hampshire is peculiar in that it has the largest House of any state in the Union, and one of the smallest Senates; and for this reason we in the Senate have a peculiar personal responsibility in giving our best attention to each matter of business which is brought before us.

This will be known as a reconstruction legislature, and for this reason our acts will be carefully scrutinized by the people of the state; and I have no doubt that their verdict will be a favorable one if we give the best that is in us.

Pledging myself to perform all the duties of this office as best I am able, the Chair awaits your pleasure.

On motion of Senator Daley, the following resolution was adopted:

Resolved, That Earle C. Gordon, as clerk, be elected by acclamation; that Clarence S. Forsaith, as assistant clerk, be elected by acclamation; that William H. Knox, as sergeant-at-arms, be elected by acclamation; that Charles H. Twombly, as messenger, be elected by acclamation; that Frank D. Gay, as doorkeeper, be elected by acclamation; and that Earle C. Gordon, Clarence S. Forsaith, William H. Knox, Charles H. Twombly and Frank D. Gay are hereby elected for the several positions named, respectively.

Thereupon Earle C. Gordon, Clarence S. Forsaith, William H. Knox, Charles H. Twombly and Frank D. Gay appeared and signified to their acceptance and were duly sworn to the faithful discharge of their duties before the President.

A true record:

EARLE C. GORDON,
Clerk for 1917-1918.

The President appointed, as members of such committee, Senators Marvin, Tufts and Donahue.

On motion of Senator Dearborn, the Senate adjourned.

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 8, 1919.

The Senate met according to adjournment.

The journal was read and approved.

Senator Horan presented the following committee report, which was read and ordered spread upon the journal of the Senate:

REPORT OF RECESS COMMITTEE ON STATE FINANCES.

To the Honorable Senate and House of Representatives in General Court Convened:

By resolution introduced by Mr. Duffy of Franklin and passed by the Senate and House of Representatives on the 19th of April, 1917, the governor was requested to appoint a committee consisting of four members of the House and one member of the Senate to sit during the recess and until the convening of the legislature of 1919, "for the purpose of making a study of the possible ways and means of introducing economies in all our state departments and institutions with the object that the work of these departments may not be impaired; and for the further purpose of studying what additional ways of raising increased revenues may be suggested as necessities require that the burdens of taxation may not be unnecessarily increased or disproportionately levied," and, "to submit its findings and any suggestions relative thereto that they may think best to the 1919 legislature."

Under this resolution the governor appointed a committee consisting of Senator Clarence M. Collins of Danville and Representatives James E. French of Moultonborough, Benjamin W. Couch of Concord, James F. Brennan of Peterborough and Richard H. Horan of Manchester, and the committee organized by the selection of Senator Collins as chairman and Mr. Horan as clerk.

The committee has called into consultation various state officials and heads of departments and institutions, has deliberated upon the subject-matter of the resolution, and makes its report to the legislature of 1919 as follows:

Increased and New Revenue.

The state is constantly assuming new financial burdens, some of which result from the creation of new activities, like the regulation of all public service corporations, construction and maintenance of highways on a larger scale, regulation of weights and measure, and other things requiring executive officers, clerks and officers, and others of which result from the taking over by the state of activities which had been carried on by the counties and towns, like the assumption by the state of the care of all the county insane and other delinquents, but all of which increase the necessity for additional state revenue.

It is evident that the successive legislatures have added one such thing to another until the requirements put upon the treasury are such that the time has come when it is necessary for the state to materially increase its revenues if it is to continue the "pay as you go" policy under which its finances have heretofore been successfully operated.

The committee suggests three sources of increased and new revenue; an increased direct state tax, the addition of a limited direct inheritance tax to the collateral inheritance tax now in force, and the enactment of a modern corporation law which shall contain suitable provisions for revenue to the state from this source.

The necessity for an increase in the state tax need not be discussed in this report.

A large increase in revenue could readily be secured by the passage of an act providing for a limited direct inheritance tax. This form of taxation is now in force in thirty-six of the states including all of the New England States except our own, and there are but seven states which limit the operation of the inheritance tax to collaterals. It has been the experience of the states which have adopted the direct inheritance tax, that it has produced a large revenue, and the burden is light, and properly placed if a liberal straight exemption is made of the smaller legacies and estates.

These exemptions vary in the several states, but the average is an exemption of from $5,000 to $10,000 of legacies to each widow and minor child. New Hampshire received last year about $195,000 from the collateral tax now in force, and the average for the last six years has been about $160,000 per annum.

No financial relief to the state can be obtained from this source during the first year after it goes into operation, because it takes about a year generally to administer an estate, but it is estimated that after the second year such a tax would add at least $250,000 to the annual revenue. We recommend the passage of a limited direct inheritance tax law, with liberal exemptions to widows and minor children as in some of the more liberal of the other states.

Many states have enacted modern, liberal, revenue-producing corporation laws. New Hampshire should do the same. The facts are that there is scarcely to be found a case of foreign capital coming to this state to incorporate, and there are altogether too many cases of our corporations and our capital seeking the states with the modern laws in which to incorporate. This is all wrong and is a detriment to the state. Our corporation laws are archaic, and we recommend the passage of an entirely new law containing safe and sane, but up-to-date, and revenue-producing, provisions governing the incorporating of capital to be used in the conduct of business. We can not undertake to discuss in detail what should be the exact provisions of such an act.

Economies in Expenditure.

Our examination of the financial conduct of the various departments and institutions has not disclosed any need of changes other than some of minor importance which may be put into effect by the governor and council under existing law. The bookkeeping in the department of institutions has been modernized, simplified and greatly improved, and it may be that the governor and council can extend this improvement in other departments.

Under this head we report that we believe that an act should be passed which will cut off further expenditures under chapters 97 and 216, Laws of 1917, the million dollar war fund, "An act directing the governor and council to assist the government of the United States in the present crisis and authorizing them to provide for the public safety." We believe that if there are any further expenditures of this nature to be made, such as care of soldiers' dependents, the matters should be presented to the legislature for action anew now that the war crisis has passed.

Our examination has led us to the conclusion that it is a mistake to pass any act which provides that the expense of operating such act shall be paid out of the revenues which may be derived from the operation of such act. We recommend that existing defects of this character be cured, and that care be taken that no more acts containing this feature be passed.

It is possible that an economy may be effected in the matter of printing the permanent House journal, by printing extra copies of the daily journal, to be left unfolded and bound at the end of the session. As to whether this is feasible, as to proper correction of mistakes for instance, can best be decided by the House officers, but if it can reasonably be done, we are informed that about $1,500 may be saved. We present the matter for your consideration.

New Avenues for Expenditure.

The committee, as a result of its deliberations on the matter of the state's finances generally, particularly in view of the inevitable financial strain to be put upon the state during the next few years, desires to very strongly recommend to the legislature that it examine with the greatest care any and all propositions which would involve the state in new and continuing expenditures.

From time to time some new avenues for expenditure of the revenues of the state must be added, but for a time at least, only those which shall be deemed to be strictly necessary should be adopted by the legislature.

In its recommendation under this head it is impossible for the committee to be specific as to any particular matter because no such matters have been presented to us, and because no such matter can be properly judged in advance of the introduction of a bill, hearings before the committee to which it is referred, report, and debate thereon in the legislature.

RESOLUTIONS ON THE DEATH OF THEODORE ROOSEVELT.

Senator Marvin, for the committee appointed to draft and report appropriate resolutions on the death of Theodore Roosevelt, reported as follows:

Resolved, That the Senate of New Hampshire has heard with genuine sorrow of the death of the great American patriot, Theodore Roosevelt.

In overcoming his own physical weakness as a child, he became master of men. The puny boy became the sturdy mountain climber and rough rider. A lawyer by profession, he early took an interest in politics. As a member of the New York Assembly, he worked for good government and civil service reform. As police commissioner, he made honesty the watchword of his administration. He was a loyal supporter of the merit system, the uncompromising enemy of corruption. Our youngest President of the United States became a man of destiny, a brilliant fighter both in peace and in war, the exponent of all that is best in American life, equally at home in politics, literature, exploration, war. Of dominant and compelling personality, he became a happy warrior for truth and justice, the most doughty champion of Americanism. In whatever position, he always had the courage of his convictions. An advocate of preparedness in life, he was himself prepared for death, in the manner of which he was especially fortunate. All unite in appreciation of his unqualified personal courage, his virility, his distinguished public service, his unbounded patriotism.

His life was strenuous, not gentle; but "the elements were so mixed in him that Nature might stand up and say to all the world, 'This was a man!'"

Resolved, That when this Senate adjourns this morning it be in respect for his memory.

The resolution was unanimously adopted by a rising vote.

MESSAGE FROM HIS EXCELLENCY THE GOVERNOR.

The following message was received from His Excellency the Governor by the Honorable Edwin C. Bean, secretary of state:

Senators and Representatives:

In the matter of the so-called "Trustee bill," I heartily welcome all discussions, full and free discussions, of all public questions. I compliment your manifest desire to go carefully and studiously to the bottom of things.

In fact, the great danger of government is the lack of open public discussion in legislative halls.

Some of the points recently made in public discussion against the "trustee bill," and the things which followed them, seem to demand this message.

The present law of the state which is involved in this discussion does not now seem to be defended by anyone, although it was passed two years ago without any discussion whatsoever.

The fact that I was a member of the Judiciary Committee of the House at that time has been argued to you. That opens up a personal matter which I will not here answer.

It was with great care, and with ample publicity that I presented to the legislature several weeks ago the fact that the governor and council, under existing laws, were almost wholly cut off from the right of supervision of the finances of the state.

At that time as now, nearly all the supervision of the finances of the state comes under the power of the one board of paid "trustees." There has been constant discussion of this situation, in the press, in public addresses, and in conversation since that time.

During this period we have all been working together, comparing ideas and suggestions, seeking advice of experience, and have finally developed a bill which you have before you.

There may be those who do not believe in the principle involved in this bill. With such we cannot hope to agree.

I believe the issue of principle, however, is as fairly raised by the bill as it now stands, as it can be in any form.

The new proposals made in the most recent discussion violate the principle involved, as I view it.

Those who do not believe that councilors should have any voice or participation in assisting the governor in supervising the finances of the state cannot support the measure. That is one of the principles involved. The councilors are creatures of the people. They are provided for in our Constitution. The governor needs their assistance. He cannot supervise properly unless he has it. To cut off their power is equivalent to restricting his supervision.

The law now in force, practically speaking, makes five trustees take the place of five councilors. It makes the chairman, practically speaking, take the place of a governor.

Can anyone justify such an extreme piece of legislation? It is desirable to correct this wisely.

The draft of the bill now before you is the least you can do if we are to preserve the principle involved.

The bill now before you permits the governor to put each of his five councilors on one of the five boards of unpaid trustees of the five state institutions. It is now proposed to take even this right away from him, by an amendment.

This particular feature was the result of a compromise in which the governor probably surrendered too much, and, now, it is proposed to amend away the little which he did not surrender in compromise.

This compromise was worked out as follows: At first I felt that, with a good permanent business superintendent for each institution, it was possible and practicable for the governor and council, although coming into office somewhat inexperienced, to supervise these permanent managers in a general financial way.

You will recall that I advocated an unpaid board of visitors for each institution to assist in keeping the governor and council informed, and to carry the soul of the state to the inmates. This we formerly had for many years.

But I was urged, by those who had had experience, to give these visiting boards more power, to let them choose the superintendents subject to the approval of the governor and council, and to let them hold meetings monthly at each institution, and manage the same, subject to the general supervision of the governor and council, and to this I reluctantly agreed, with the proviso, however, that one member of the council should be on each board, so that the governor could have available before him at every meeting of his council, one man, at least, who was in close touch with each institution. This was regarded by all as a happy compromise solution.

This arrangement seemed like a wise blending of the "permanency of a board" with the new incentive of new blood every two years representing the people. There are many who believe that this was too much of a concession, holding firmly that the governor and council should appoint the executive heads of the five great institutions.

Now, the new proposition is to take away from the governor even this little right to have one of his council on these boards, thus leaving him in total darkness as he was before.

The governor cannot supervise unless he can be put in a position to know what is going on all the time.

Another new proposal is to retain the present board of trustees. This cannot be done, and at the same time preserve the principles involved. In the nature of the case, their functions are supervisory in precisely the same manner as the governor and council are supervisory. They come from different parts of the state, meet about once a week in formal session just as the governor and council do. It is impossible for them to give any personal attention to so many institutions.

It is against public policy to put so much power, so many institutions, into one board who are not responsible to the people. It is too great a concentration of power in a permanent board. The people fear it.

Doctor Bancroft, and others, whose judgment I highly respect, give me the unanswerable argument that these five institutions are so widely different that they absolutely require, for good efficient management, trustees who are specially selected for each particular institution.

This feature of the bill I believe to be far more important than we at first realized. I was deeply impressed with the presentation to me of this phase of the bill by those who had had experience with the different institutions.

For instance, the Sanatorium for Consumptives should have on its board at least one physician who takes a special interest in tubercular cases. I think it should also have a woman on the board who can interest herself in the women of such an institution.

The School for Feeble-Minded Children has a very distinct field of work. It should have on its board some physician who is particularly skilled and versed in the diseases and limitations of these inmates. It should also have some woman on the board who can make herself felt from the standpoint of a woman upon that institution.

Again, the Hospital for the Insane is totally different from the Sanatorium for Consumptives. It should have on its board a man of experience and skill in that line. Such, for instance, as Doctor Bancroft himself, who can be of great assistance to the management. The hundreds of women in that institution should have a woman on the board of trustees to take an interest in them and to understand their peculiar situation.

Also, the children in the Industrial School at Manchester should have trustees who are particularly interested and particularly experienced in the needs and welfare of children of that sort.

And lastly, the criminals in our state prison, and the state prison itself, require the study of men who are interested in that sort of thing; a far different requirement than any of the other institutions.

This is not radical. It was what we had in the state successfully for a great many years and it is what I am told these institutions and the inmates thereof have sadly felt the lack of for the last six years. Why should we not give it to them? Particularly so, when it is less expensive than the present method and when it does not concentrate so much power in one board.

I am satisfied that there are available from among our best citizenship, men and women, specially interested in each institution, who would be perfectly willing, and perhaps eager, to render this public service without pay.

Service based on public interest and public spirit is the best possible kind of service.

It is a good thing for the state, as a whole, to permit a goodly number of its citizens to participate, if only in a modest way, in the government of the state.

The argument that a councilor should not be on these boards of trustees during his term only, because he gets $8 per day under the law for his services, is untenable.

There is a wise law that councilors shall not appoint themselves to any of the salaried positions in our state government, but this is not our case at all.

It is well known what that law means. It means that I could not appoint, for instance, one of the councilors to be insurance commissioner, because the councilor has a vote on his confirmation.

But when a councilor is sitting on one of those boards of trustees, he is familiarizing himself with the executive duties of the state and making himself very valuable and helpful to the governor. There is no reason why he should not get his usual pay for that work, but I have no doubt they would gladly forego the pay if you should deem that wise.

Again, I repeat, that we must constantly guard against building up too great power in permanent commissions not responsible to the people. The size of a commission, the size and extent of its powers are grave dangers. They are dangers because they are permanent, and because they have too much power to perpetuate themselves, and because the people cannot reach them.

Nearly all the arguments against the powers of a governor and council are arguments to get away from the people.

Trying to get away from the people is bad business in a democracy. It creates a current of distrust in government, gives birth to unrest among the people, and leads in the end to worse things. We must stabilize our country. To do this the people must be made to feel that they are governing themselves, and they must govern themselves.

As I said before, when you strip your elective officers of power, you strip the people of power.

Small unpaid boards of trustees are far safer for a state, than paid boards, of large powers, because the latter are more difficult to change by legislation.

The five unpaid citizen boards of trustees will be adapted to the needs of each institution. The expense will be about one half the expense of one paid board. And what is of more importance, is the humanitarian work which they will do in each institution which is not and cannot be done under the present system.

Again, I urge that this matter be not delayed because I cannot begin the necessary work of my administration until I get your decision.

And again I repeat, that I am putting this question wholly on principle and not on personality, and I ask you to do the same.

JOHN H. BARTLETT,

Governor.

February 18, 1919.

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The following message was received from His Excellency the Governor, by the Honorable Hobart Pillsbury, deputy secretary of state:

STATE OF NEW HAMPSHIRE.

EXECUTIVE CHAMBER.

CONCORD, March 6, 1919.

To Senators and Representatives:

Permit me to communicate to you herewith the attached letter from our two United States senators and congressmen with reference to the necessity of the State of New Hampshire and the State of Maine appropriating $500,000 for a memorial bridge at Portsmouth before they can hope for any success in securing assistance from the federal government.

This appropriation, as the redraft of the bill now pending provides, should be by a bond issue running over a period of at least twenty years for the reason that the proposed bridge will solve the highway problem between the states for all time and it is just and equitable that the future should bear a considerable portion of the expense. As this letter indicates, and as the bill now pending is drawn, the appropriation should not be made contingent upon any assistance being received from the federal government for the reason that if we fail to obtain any assistance from the federal government, it is possible that a memorial bridge can be built by the two states alone with an appropriation of $500,000 by each state. Such a bridge would have to be built at a less desirable point on the river and of cheaper construction and would be less serviceable and perhaps not serviceable at all to the federal government. But such a bridge as the two states could build with an appropriation of $500,000 each would end the payment of toll, would furnish a free access from one state to the other and would be a suitable memorial to the soldier and sailor dead. If we are to memorialize our heroes, we must do it now.

While it is confidently believed that the federal government will appropriate a sum which will make it possible to build a better bridge than could otherwise be built and to build it at a place across the river and of a construction which would also serve the purposes of the federal government, nevertheless, should the federal government fail us, we should not on that account fail to go ahead and build such bridge and such a memorial as the joint appropriation of the two states alone will make possible.

This matter has been gone into thoroughly by the interstate commission and this point is strongly endorsed in the attached letter from our two senators and congressmen.

I can only assure you that so far as your executive is concerned, no contract will be made and no arrangement entered into by which the state will become liable for anything more than the $500,000 appropriated in the bill now pending.

Under any set of conditions which may arise the full amount of $500,000 would have to be appropriated by the state, but I believe it is equitable that the local communities on each side of the river should bear the expense of land damages for approaches and straightening of streets. On the Portsmouth side this will amount to a large sum of money and I am informed that the city expects to do that as its portion and is taking steps to do it.

A bill practically identical in form to the bill now pending in this legislature passed both branches of the State of Maine legislature yesterday and is now awaiting the signature of the governor.

The letter from our two United States senators and congressmen follows:

“WASHINGTON, D. C., 4 March, 1919.

“DEAR GOVERNOR BARTLETT:—Congress adjourned today at noon without action upon the Naval Appropriation Bill in which we had hoped to insert an item carrying a Federal appropriation of from $500,000 to $800,000 to aid in the construction of the proposed interstate highway bridge between New Hampshire and Maine. The failure of the Senate to consider the bill in any stage prevented us from undertaking any action in the line of our hopes—and the whole subject is therefore open for concerted, and, as we believe, successful action at the approaching extra session of the 66th Congress which is sure to be called prior to June 30.

“In that Congress there will be a reorganization of the committees in both Houses, owing to the change in political control which took place at the last election, and we have every reason to believe that the chairmen and the majority of the membership—both Republican and Democratic—in the Naval Affairs Committees in both branches of Congress, will be found sympathetic and responsive to our request.

"We are glad to be able to say that the interest of the secretary of the navy in this project, of which you are already fully aware, and which he has manifested in every possible way—continues unabated; and we may continue to count upon his co-operation in any proper manner which the friends of the proposed bridge may indicate to him. In this connection, we are led to believe that there is a growing opinion in naval circles generally, which have to do with the Navy Yard at Portsmouth, to the effect that this bridge is not only desirable but substantially necessary for the successful continuance of the enlarged work at the Portsmouth Navy Yard which the Navy Department has in contemplation. We therefore feel that when the matter comes up again for action, especially as it will arise at a time when a less hurried consideration can be given to our proposals, we shall be able to enlist a wider and more powerful co-operation from naval circles than we have heretofore had.

"In short, we believe that the stage here is already set for successful action if the legislatures of New Hampshire and Maine give substantial evidence of their firmness of purpose in the project. This of course, can best be shown by the passage of the appropriation bill which you have in mind for the proposed bridge; and we earnestly hope that the New Hampshire legislature will not hesitate to take the action which you are suggesting to them. We are informed of the details of the legislation which you propose to enact. Governor Milliken of Maine, was at the Capitol last night and this morning, when some of us had opportunity to talk with him, and what we are now saying in reference to the outlook for the proposed appropriation in Maine, is based upon the information which Governor Milliken gave us.

"You can assure the members of the legislature in the most emphatic manner at your command, that the Congressional delegation here will not relax their efforts to secure the best possible measure of co-operation in the construction of the bridge. But you should, and we ask you to add to this, an equally emphatic assertion that the condition prerequisite to the success of whatever we may attempt here will be speedy and wholehearted response on the part of the legislatures to the suggestions which this letter contains.

“Sincerely yours,

“(Signed) GEORGE H. MOSES.

HENRY W. KEYES.

E. H. WASON.

SHERMAN E. BURROUGHS.

“The Honorable John H. Bartlett,

“Concord, New Hampshire.”

JOHN H. BARTLETT,

Governor.

"(f) No public utility shall grant any free service nor charge or receive a greater or less or different compensation for any service rendered to any person, firm or corporation than the compensation fixed for such service by the schedules on file with the commission and in effect at the time such service is rendered, provided, however, that nothing in this act shall be taken to prevent any public utility from granting free or reduced rate service to its officers and employees, nor any telephone or telegraph utility from granting franks for free service to the officials of other utilities engaged in the operation of telephone or telegraph properties, nor to prevent any public utility from granting free or reduced rate service to charitable organizations or to municipalities, and provided, further, that statements shall be filed with the commission in such forms as the commission shall require showing all service of any kind granted at less than the regular schedule rates. In any case where the commission shall investigate the rates, charges or prices of any public utility in any town or city, if it shall be of the opinion that the furnishing of free or reduced rate service under the authority of this paragraph operates unreasonably to increase the rates, charges and prices to the public, it may, to such extent as in its opinion justice may require, order a discontinuance of such free service, or an increase in Nothing in this act shall prevent a public utility from making a contract for services at rates other than those fixed by its schedules of general application, if special circumstances exist which render such departure from the general schedules just and consistent with the public interest, and the commission shall by order allow such contract to take effect. Such contract, however, shall be filed and shall be made public in such manner as the commission shall require, and shall constitute a part of the published schedules of the public utility making the same. The furnishing by any public utility of any product or service at the rates and upon the terms provided for in any existing contract, executed prior to the passage of this act, shall not be construed as constituting a discrimination, or undue or unreasonable preference, or advantage within the meaning specified; provided, however, that when any such contract or contracts are or become terminable by notice, and in all cases of contracts made since May 15, 1911, the commission shall have power in its discretion to direct by order that such contract or contracts shall be terminated as and when directed by such order."

On motion of Senator Hall, the Senate concurred in the foregoing concurrent resolution sent up from the House of Representatives.

The President appointed as members of such committee on the part of the Senate, Senators Hall, Keyser, Barnes, Hubbard, Lariviere, Boucher, Blanchard and Horan.

COMMITTEE REPORT.

Senator Hall, for the joint select committee appointed to wait upon His Excellency, the Governor, and inform him that the legislature had completed the business of the session and was ready to receive any communication that he might be pleased to make, reported that they had attended to their duty and had been informed by His Excellency that he would, in person, make a communication to the legislature herewith.

His Excellency, Honorable John H. Bartlett, attended by the Honorable Council, then appeared and made the following communication to the Senate:

To the Honorable Senate:

The New Hampshire General Court of 1919 has presented to me for my consideration 256 bills and 55 joint resolutions, all of which I have signed, with the exception of two, one, House Bill No. 309, which I vetoed and which failed to pass over said veto, and the other, Senate Bill No. 23, from which I have withheld my approval.

This has been a legislature which faced an unusual situation and extraordinary circumstances. For this reason, I am presuming that you would desire me to review more extensively than otherwise the financial record of this legislature.

The legislature of 1917 appropriated for its two fiscal years sums of money which required a regular tax of $800,000 each year in addition to a special Mexican War tax.

This legislature has appropriated sums of money which require a state tax of $1,800,000 for our first fiscal year and $1,500,000 for our second fiscal year, or an average of $1,650,000 for each year. Expressed in different form, this legislature has appropriated sums of money which require a state tax for the first year of $1,000,000 and for the second year of $700,000 in excess of the state tax of the preceding legislature. In other words, we have to account for the appropriation of about $1,700,000 for our two fiscal years in excess of the appropriation of the two fiscal years last past.

How do we account for this excess of $1,700,000 for the next two fiscal years over the past two fiscal years? In other words, what will the people of the state get in return for this excess in the state tax over two years ago and what conditions have made this increase necessary?

The first item with which we were faced was an item of $365,000 to meet a necessary deficiency which we inherited from the last administration or administrations, and which arose because of unexpected war conditions, which could not be foreseen when the state tax was assessed by our immediate predecessors.

The next item in bulk which I call to your attention is $616,000, which this legislature has appropriated to the general cause of education, including the Agricultural College, in excess of what was appropriated by the last legislature. This sum divides itself naturally into three parts as follows: $107,000 would have been required by the Educational Department if the so-called Americanization Bill had not passed. That is, by its regular budget the Educational Department would have required $107,000 of this legislature more than it required of the last legislature. The passage of the Americanization Bill, however, called for $334,000 additional for the two years combined. Again, the conditions at Durham, created largely by the war, called for an additional appropriation, all things included, of $175,000. Every item of this appropriation for the college was gone over very carefully by the entire legislature and everything was cut as much as possible. The state will, however, acquire valuable additional property through this appropriation.

Again, for the two years combined, the highway appropriations will amount to $475,000 more than two years ago. This, however, reckons the increase in automobile fees over the sum at which it was reckoned two years ago. It also reckons an additional appropriation of $100,000 which qualifies us, with our other appropriations, to receive from the federal government nearly $800,000. This extraordinary sum which we are to receive from the federal government we could not afford to lose by failure to meet the necessary conditions imposed by the federal government. In fact, the state is extremely fortunate in being able to thus augment its available highway funds.

Again, the Agricultural Department will receive at the hands of this legislature about $60,000 more than from the last. This is to make possible the work which was recommended by a committee of our leading agriculturists, in whom I have great confidence.

We have appropriated for soldiers $26,500 more than two years ago, but this does not include the soldiers' bonus which I will mention later.

The additional expense of collecting the new inheritance tax we estimate at $24,800.

The increase in salaries is $14,000.

We have appropriated $18,000 to pay an old debt at Durham which has been running for years in order to clean up and start square.

We have appropriated $10,000 extra for dependent mothers.

We have appropriated $10,000 for a constitutional convention.

We have appropriated $10,000 extra to help check the spread of tuberculosis or consumption.

We have appropriated about $5,000 for the check of a serious disease.

This legislature was called upon to meet interest on war bonds, so that our extra interest charges were $66,000 more than two years ago.

The foregoing items are summarized as follows:

To cover deficiency	$365,000
Education and Agricultural College	616,000
State highways	475,000
Agricultural Department	60,000
For soldiers (not soldiers' bonus)	26,500
Expenses of new inheritance tax law	24,800
Increase in salaries	14,000
Old debt at Durham	18,000
Dependent mothers	10,000
Constitutional convention	10,000
Tuberculosis	10,000
Check of special disease	5,000
Interest on war bonds	66,000
Total	$1,700,300

You will bear in mind that I am giving only a birdseye view of the situation, so that you can tell generally how we stand and I am speaking in terms of two years combined and not of one year singly.

You will see that quite a considerable sum is appropriated in order that we may clean up old matters and start square with a view of running the state on the policy of "pay as you go."

There remains about $190,000 of the half-million bond issue which is still in the treasury unexpended and unappropriated. A little more of this will be used in winding up the business of that appropriation, and it is understood that $30,000 of it shall be used to pay the United States government for the buildings at Durham. The rest of it will remain in the treasury as cash.

Now, on the other hand, this legislature has opened up new sources of revenue for which in dollars and cents we shall not get the full credit. The extension of the inheritance tax law which has been passed by this legislature will produce, in my judgment, over $400,000 annually, or $800,000 for two years after it has had time to get under full swing. In making our state tax, however, we have been ultra-conservative in figuring only $100,000 from this course annually. My personal belief is that before the fiscal period ends for which we are legislating, this new law will produce an average of $200,000 instead of $100,000 as reckoned.

We have also enacted a modern, sound and honest corporation law, which is a distinct asset to the state and which will produce some money, but we have made no account of this in reckoning our state tax. We have figured on a sure basis.

When cost conditions get normal again and when the revenue bills which we have enacted get into maximum operation, the state tax can again approach more nearly what it was before the war, unless we take on additional duties of expenditure.

The people demand new things and are willing to pay for them provided they get value received for their money.

We have left undisturbed the law by which the state collects each year over a million dollars in taxes from corporations, banks, insurance companies, etc., and then returns this money to certain cities and towns in accordance with existing law. While this money is paid into the state treasury as taxes, it does not go to the use of the state in any form. I do not believe in this law on account of the injustices and inequalities in connection with its return to the cities and towns. Some day this will be changed, but it did not seem to be a thing which we could fight out in this session.

We have added a half million to our state bonded indebtedness in order to take a long step toward emancipating the highway system of the state from the payment of tolls. This had become an imperative proposition. Civilization is not a success when private corporations own its highways. By this bridge law, we raise our bonded indebtedness from about $1,500,000 to about $2,000,000. This is not disturbing. After the Civil War we had a bonded indebtedness of over $3,000,000, and our property at that time was only about one third the value of our property at the present time. Our state is more conservatively bonded, I believe, than most any state in the Union. It is conspicuous in its conservative financial strength, and for this, much credit must be given to those who in the past and the present have stood firm against extravagance.

We have appropriated about $600,000 as a kind of a thank offering to those gallant boys who risked all to preserve our civilization. It was in no sense as a payment, but merely an appreciation. We can never repay them. This money is to be raised by a special tax, and I believe this is well, because it will remind every person in the state that he is contributing. He should do it cheerfully. The country should do more. We are bound to do more as we can. Those who actually suffered for us shall never suffer for money.

I believe the people of our state will surely justify the acts of this legislature with reference to financial matters. Nothing has been appropriated which can be called extravagance. Many meritorious proposals have been denied. The new steps which we have caused the state to take, involving expenditures, have, in my opinion, been veritably demanded by the duties and needs of this reconstruction period and in order that the affairs of the state may be safely and prosperously administered.

I am profoundly grateful for your sympathetic co-operation with me in the solution of the problems of this legislature. I thank each one of you personally for the spirit of kindness and cordiality which has uniformly marked your criticism and business association. During the remainder of my life, I shall regard as particular and special friends you men who have thus been associated with me in the service of the state. I trust that our united influence in the future may be conducive of higher levels of citizenship in our state.

Having been informed by the joint committee of the Senate and House of Representatives that you have completed the business of the session and are ready to adjourn, I do, by the authority vested in me as governor, hereby declare the General Court of New Hampshire adjourned to the last Wednesday in December in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and twenty.

JOHN H. BARTLETT,
Governor.

And thereupon the President, in accordance with the proclamation of His Excellency, the Governor, and by virtue of the authority vested in him, declared the Senate adjourned to the last Wednesday in December, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and twenty.

Members of the General Court 1919:

You have informed me that your organization has been completed and that you are in readiness to receive any communication I may be pleased to make.

During most of the time covered by my administration as governor of New Hampshire, our nation has been engaged in the world war, and our work and duties and problems here, as in our sister states, have arisen, to a large extent, from our participation in that great conflict.

Had the war continued, I should have felt it my duty to give you in the form of suggestions and recommendations any possible benefit that you might derive from my labors and my experience as chief executive in a time of military action.

But, thank God! the war is over and won; and New Hampshire had her full share in the winning of it. Now it is the problems of peace which must be faced and your governor-elect has given them close and careful study, the fruits of which will be made known to you in his inaugural address tomorrow.

Because of the war, new state activities have been checked, for the most part, and we have been content to hold our own on lines upon which, with the coming of peace, renewed progress now can be made.

Because of the lack of labor and of material, the state highway department, for example, has been obliged to confine itself almost exclusively to work upon the projects in which it is co-operating with the national government. But it has improved the opportunity to make extensive plans for the near future in line with our established policy of road improvement.

Even with the realization of all that is hoped for from the railroad reorganization which our legislature of 1917 authorized, and which now is about to be entered upon, better highways must play a large part in solving the transportation problems of the immediate future and in bringing new life and increased prosperity to our farms. And the comparatively new factor of heavy motor truck traffic must enter into our road-building calculations.

The proposed new bridge at Portsmouth, in the construction of which it is hoped the United States may aid the states of Maine and New Hampshire, will be an important step forward and one which should meet with your active approval.

I am glad to be able to report to you that all of the beneficent and forward-looking legislation enacted by the General Court of 1917 has been put into successful operation. This includes the new labor laws for factory inspection, a shorter work week for women and children and a free employment bureau; various child welfare measures; the establishing of a bureau of markets; and the act allowing soldiers to vote when out of the state.

The new department of weights and measures and the new public library commission have been organized and have entered upon their duties, and the board of trustees of public institutions has been reorganized with satisfactory results. The new law regulating the sale of investments, the so-called "Blue Sky Law," is well handled through the insurance department. Efficient enforcement of the new prohibitory liquor law has been secured.

The special recess committee upon state finances has been giving careful consideration to that subject and will submit to you valuable information and recommendations deserving the most careful attention.

The question raised by Vermont, of the boundary line between New Hampshire and that state, is still unsettled and is before the Supreme Court of the United States. In 1917, both Maine and New Hampshire made appropriations for a joint survey of the boundary line between these states, but on account of the war it was deemed advisable to defer action in the matter.

Other important and pressing problems which I merely name, knowing that you will have wise and ample counsel from other sources in regard to them, are the re-employment of our returning soldiers; the Americanization of a large part of our population, alien and otherwise; the adaptation of our educational system to changed conditions, especially on the line of vocational instruction; the question of universal, compulsory military training; the better co-ordination of our agriculture with our other industries, of our producers with our consumers; and the ever present, interest-compelling subject of taxation.

I am glad to report that during my administration there has been brought about the return to the state archives of the longlost and historically valuable papers of Meshech Weare. The transfer to the state by a private association of the Daniel Webster birthplace has been another important act along the lines of preserving worthy memories of our great past.

During the past two years, Dartmouth College at Hanover and New Hampshire College at Durham have proved anew their value to state and nation by the way in which they rose to the occasion and made the most of their opportunities in connection with the training of officers and soldiers for our new army. The war record of these institutions is one of the proudest chapters in their history and impresses us deeply with the extent to which they deserve our interest and support.

An unusual number of deaths and resignations, due in part to war conditions, have made it the duty of the administration now ending to fill by appointment many very important places. It has been my endeavor to do this with an eye single to the public good, and I believe that the results have been creditable to the state and advantageous for its welfare.

I am glad of this opportunity to express officially my appreciation of the magnificent response which New Hampshire has made to every war demand upon her. The history of the state gave us every reason to expect just such a response, but the willingness and the completeness and the splendid spirit of it were none the less gratifying.

It began with the unanimous action of the legislature of 1917 in authorizing a million dollar special expenditure for war needs, and in enacting a series of war measures which met so fully the developing conditions that no extra session of the General Court was necessary or even considered.

Of the million dollars referred to, there has been spent but a little over $300,000, most of which has been used for the organization, equipment and maintenance of the State Guard; and the balance expended principally for aid to the dependents of soldiers and sailors from New Hampshire in the service of the nation; for enlarging and improving the military campground in this city; and for procuring, at the last general election, the votes of our soldiers. This was done by sending commissioners to practically every school, training camp and fort in the country, one commission going as far as Texas.

The money for all these expenditures was raised by a bond issue of $500,000; and the fact that under existing conditions the securities sold at a large premium, higher, in fact, than the market price of any issue of United States bonds, was a gratifying evidence of the financial standing of our state.

To maintain that standing unimpaired has been a constant effort of this administration, and in view of the great increase in costs I believe that the financial showing made in the annual report of the state treasurer is an excellent one.

Some new construction, for which the legislature of 1917 made appropriations, has been necessary at the State Hospital, the School for Feeble-Minded, the Plymouth Normal School, the State College and the Dover Armory; and in every instance the work has been completed within the appropriations.

I believe you will find, upon investigation, that the special expenditures for war purposes, as well as the regular appropriations, have been made wisely; as I know they have been honestly. It was the one purpose of those charged with responsibility in this matter to see that every call upon the state was met promptly and fully; that in every form of endeavor and efficiency New Hampshire kept up to the highest mark; so that we might receive, as we have received, from Washington, the verdict, "Well done."

The mobilizing and federalizing of our National Guard were accomplished satisfactorily and were accompanied by a creditable amount of volunteering for the various branches of war service. Then came the selective service laws, with the responsibility for their enforcement and execution laid upon the governors of the various states. It was a tremendous machine, and, of course, at first, it needed some adjustments; but in the end it worked with almost incredible smoothness; the people accepted the law in the finest possible spirit; and its results were good beyond expectation.

In New Hampshire, at least, as I know from personal experience, one of the principal reasons why the great machine worked so well was because it was made up of such excellent parts. We were exceedingly fortunate in the character and ability of the men who accepted places on the various draft boards, and too much praise cannot be given their unselfish devotion to duty and patriotic performance of a difficult task.

Thus we furnished the men; almost twenty thousand of them. I cannot take time or space to enlarge upon all the splendid qualities and achievements of these men. Nor is it necessary. Both are already well known to you all. But I feel I must mention the fact that statistics show the bill of health of the soldiers of New Hampshire to be the cleanest of that of any men in the New England States and to rank sixth of all the states in the Union. This, considered in the light of the tremendous importance which it is in these days tardily known should be given this vital question, is a realization which should fill us with thankful pride. And it is not the least of the reasons why I feel that our men, on returning from service, should be rewarded by every possible public token of our appreciation of their high merit, courage and nobility.

And behind the men stood all New Hampshire, an eager, enthusiastic unit for every sort of work that would help in the winning of the war.

We gave the men and we gave the money; in taxes; for Liberty Bonds and War Savings Stamps; in support of the great work of the Red Cross and those other organizations which have done so much to make our soldier and sailor boys as good men as they are good fighters. Every quota we filled; every mark that was set for us we passed. Food, fuel and labor administrators sought and found cheerful and complete co-operation in their valuable work.

Such co-operation with the federal authorities has been an end always sought by those at the head of the state government. At Portsmouth, for instance, the states of Maine and New Hampshire joined with the national government in establishing a health zone of immediate utility and of possible future value as an object lesson.

Also, we have done some war work of our own; such as establishing the State Guard in place of the federalized National Guard; an experiment which has worked out very successfully, thanks to the quality of the men secured for this service and their devotion to this patriotic duty.

In leading, creating and educating public sentiment; in bringing diffused energy and enthusiasm into a focus of possible utilization; in sifting the wheat from the chaff of war work activities the State Committee of Public Safety, through its executive committee, has done valuable service.

Its secretary, as state war historian, already has accumulated a great amount of accurate and essential material, and has well advanced towards completion a necessary work, which, otherwise undertaken, might have occupied years of time with less satisfactory results.

The war work of the women of New Hampshire cannot be omitted from any consideration, however brief, of the part which this state took in the great conflict; and it deserves the highest praise. Not only in the work which they alone could do, such as their magnificent support of the Red Cross and their remarkable conserving of food, did the women lead; but also, when the men needed help, in accomplishing their tasks, in selling bonds and securing subscriptions, the women were prompt in volunteering and in rendering very valuable assistance. The women of America, with the women of New Hampshire in the front rank, had a truly great part in the winning of the war.

The United States of America of January 1, 1919, is an infinitely greater and grander and better nation than the United States of America of January 1, 1917. It has proved itself by the supreme test. It has given itself, its life blood, its best treasures, without reserve, to the cause of right. And by its efforts that cause has triumphed.

Therein the State of New Hampshire has had its small but splendid part. I am proud of that part today and you are proud of it. You will seek in your every official deed, as I have sought in mine, to be worthy of the trust placed in us by a constituency that demands and deserves our very best in thought and word and act.

It is my great honor and responsibility to have been entrusted by the people of New Hampshire with new duties to perform, after a brief interval, and new responsibilities to assume. If I may be allowed at this time a personal word, I would like to take advantage of this opportunity to thank the people of our state for this expression of their confidence and to pledge to them my best efforts in all that may make for the true progress and prosperity of the nation.

I feel it is a happy omen that the first day of your legislative session coincides with the first day of the first month of nineteen hundred and nineteen, and thus allows me, in closing, to wish you and yours and all the people of New Hampshire a happy and prosperous new year.

The Acting Governor, Governor-elect and the Honorable Council then came in, and the Hon. John H. Bartlett, Governor, then took and subscribed the oath of office and the oath of allegiance before the President of the Senate and in the presence of both branches of the legislature, whereupon the Hon. Arthur P. Morrill, President of the Senate, made proclamation as follows:

John H. Bartlett, having been duly elected Governor of New Hampshire, accepted the office and taken the oath prescribed by the constitution, I do therefore declare and proclaim His Excellency, John H. Bartlett, Governor of the State of New Hampshire, to hold the office during the period prescribed by the constitution and laws of the state, and I present Your Excellency with a copy of the constitution of the state as a guide in the discharge of your official duties.

His Excellency then read the following message:

Senators and Representatives:

My first impulse is to express to you and your constituents a word of thanks for the great confidence with which you have summoned me to take this sacred oath, and for the loyal support which you have promised me.

With hearts of gratitude for the glorious dawn of peace, with a new sense of brotherhood, with an impelling feeling of thanksgiving to Almighty God, we are assembled here to again exercise and enjoy those sacred privileges of self-government which have been so securely preserved to us by the valor and blood of our sons, both living and dead.

A NEW DAY.

The voices of a splendid people have called us here as the new representatives of a new day.

They bid us to take up our work with studious fortitude, in the spirit of reappraising our state and our needs in this the new light of the best day the world has yet seen. They bid us to see the new viewpoint, and when our duty is thus determined to perform it in a fine spirit of valor,—such as was shown by our boys who have won our triumphs in arms.

We come rejoiced that our victory in war was complete; that our sacrifices have been small; and that we may still feel rich in the possession of “life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness.”

RETURNING SONS.

I cannot fail to voice an official welcome home to all our living sons who offered themselves to their country. All that we can do for them shall be done. Neither can I fail to speak for you the most feeling word of thanksgiving, and also of consolation in memory of the lives of those heroes laid on the altar of freedom.

It is the duty of the nation, as an expense of the war, not only to care for those who have been made dependent by the war, but to furnish employment at once in public works and improvements, or support without work, those who are forced by the sudden transition of business from a war basis to a peace basis into want and distress through idleness. As one of the sovereign states of the nation, we ask this of the nation, and we are willing to do all we can as a state.

OUR GOAL.

Good government in a democracy is to provide what the people honestly want, and then levy taxes of some kind for payment. These two phases of the question must always be kept together. We should be reasonably sure the people do want each given thing, and then we should discover the best method of securing the necessary money. When that has been done, the executive function of the state should see that the people obtain those results without waste.

POWERS OF A LEGISLATURE.

You now have the power to reconstruct every item of our state government machinery within the limits of the constitution. When this legislature adjourns, if any of our laws and our methods of administering them are not right, regardless of when a law was enacted, the responsibility is on us. It is as bad to pass over and retain a law that is wrong as it is to legislate a new wrong.

HOW TO BEGIN OUR WORK.

The question of how to go to work under our powers to reach our goal comes first. My belief is that we should resolve ourselves into a kind of governmental school for study, by lectures, addresses and discussions, so that each and every one of us, however new to the business, may know the full situation and be able to pass judgment intelligently. Let no one say this is impossible. There are no questions here which we all cannot readily understand, if we study them.

ECONOMIZE IN OUR METHODS.

Our rules and forms should be simplified for new members which means a majority of you. Then no one should introduce a bill until after he has advised sufficiently to know it is not impossible or meaningless and not in bad form to print. We should not go to the expense of printing any bill until it has been carefully scrutinized and inspected so as to prevent the necessity of reprinting. We may thus reduce the number of bills perhaps one half and the printing bill one half and also save our time. Then we have paved the way for a program of careful study on the large, important matters which often go through almost unnoticed in the confusion.

FUNCTIONS OF A STATE.

The functions of a state are divided into legislative, executive and judicial. The constitution has carefully defined the legislative machinery and duties, and we cannot change them. You can change the judicial system but I strongly advise against doing so. The executive department, speaking broadly, deals with enforcing the laws and spending the money appropriated. This needs the most study by you. Primarily it consists in the governor and council.

SHALL THE GOVERNOR AND COUNCIL BE CHIEF EXECUTIVES?

The constitution of our state makes the office of governor the "chief executive." But the truth is, that the governor and council have been so stripped of their powers by a gradual process of "farming out" their powers to others, that, now, they are not only not the "chief" executives of the state, but in nearly all of the very important matters of finance where judgment and discretion are involved they are no executives at all. It is to a general study of this, to me rather surprising situation, that I wish particularly to recommend the attention of this reconstruction legislature. Believing that the people actually do not know how completely the hands of their elected executives have been tied, while, at the same time, they are held responsible, I now cite to you some of the facts with absolutely no reflection on anyone.

THE SUBJECT IS VITAL.

The importance of this subject is fundamental and vital. We are spending between two and three millions of money annually. It is a great business and should be managed from a central, directing and supervising authority at the head. I can think of no better illustration of my idea than to say that the relation of the governor and council to the fiscal affairs of the state should be similar to the relation of the president and directors of a large corporation to that corporation. I believe that the different agencies of the state having the expenditure of any considerable amount of money should be reasonably directed and supervised by the governor and council in much the same manner as the different departments of a corporation are directed and supervised. But this is not so with our state as the laws are now, and here lies what I regard as one of our great reconstruction problems, because this is a time when we are inspecting our whole structure even to the foundation stones.

TWO LAWS WHICH GO THE FARTHEST.

There are two departments which have the uncontrolled and unsupervised expenditures of nearly all our money in which discretionary powers are involved. They are the commission known as "The Trustees of State Institutions," and the highway commission.

WHERE THE CHIEF EXECUTIVE IS ACTUALLY A SUBORDINATE.

The law which goes the farthest in setting up an almost absolute power of gigantic proportions within the state house, which is not only independent of the governor and council but superior to them in power, is the law which places a board in practically supreme control of all the affairs of the State's Prison, the State Hospital, the School for Feeble-Minded Children, the Industrial School and the Sanatorium.

This legislation began in 1913. In 1915 it was re-enacted with some changes and the personnel of the board changed. In 1917 it was re-enacted with other changes and the personnel of the board changed again.

IT HAS GIGANTIC POWERS.

This law gives to the commission the uncontrolled expenditure of about $700,000 annually, the appointment and supervision of the purchasing agent, an office of tremendous importance and potentiality, the appointment and control of all the superintendents, officers and subordinate managers of these five institutions, the establishment of all their policies and rules (a kind of legislation), even the erection of new and costly buildings, the purchase and sale of land, in short, everything that pertains to the control and administration of this, the largest feature of the state's life. The council members have no voice whatever, and the governor may as well be so classed for all practical purposes. The governor is not even the chairman of this board of six members. He has no power to direct it, and he has no veto power over its doings. If he cares to attend a meeting of the board and sit in such a humiliating position he can do so, but only as a subordinate to cast one of the six votes. His hands are absolutely tied, yet he is responsible to the people for the welfare of these institutions.

IT IS A DANGEROUS LAW.

The governor and council do not have to approve the most important appointments which this board has the power to make. It is required by the law to meet once each week. They do meet and give general direction to the office force and the subordinate managers. They are paid $8 per day the same as councilors. The governor and council are required to give all their time to the state if necessary. They are holding meetings often whenever it is deemed necessary. If they have ideas or policies, or receive complaints, with reference to these institutions they are powerless to act. If there should be great trouble they are also powerless to act. The law and the system created is wholly wrong, has dangerous tendencies and possibilities, is subversive of good government, unnecessary, expensive, undemocratic, and in violation of the constitutional intention that the governor and council should be the chief executive officers of the state.

THE LAW SHOULD BE REPEALED.

I unhesitatingly and unqualifiedly recommend the abolishment of the commission, called the "Trustees of Public Institutions," by the repeal of the law, and the passage of an act placing all its powers and duties in the governor and council. The people do not desire all these matters placed beyond the control of the ones whom they elect to lead, because when you strip an elective executive of power you strip the people of power.

THE OFFICE OF GOVERNOR BELONGS TO THE PEOPLE.

It is the office and not the one now in it for which I contend. The office of governor belongs to the people. It should not be taken from them by indirection. In addition to efficiency, and every business principle involved, it offends the natural pride of the people to have their chosen chief executive reduced to humiliating impotency, and his rightful functions placed in the hands of commissions beyond their power to recall. I distinguish between great money-spending commissions and others.

BOARD OF VISITORS RECOMMENDED.

Furthermore, I believe that these institutions should have something more than mere cold management. They should be made to feel that finer touch of sympathetic hands and voices which represents the soul of the state. This I would attempt to provide by giving to each institution a separate board of visitors or advisers consisting of both men and women who are inclined toward such social and charitable work, and who would serve without pay. They would assist the management and the governor and council, and occupy a kind of personal relation between them and the people. They would be helpful to the unfortunates who are our own "suffering Belgians."

NO CHANGES CONTEMPLATED.

I have no thought of any personal changes in any position. My recommendation relates wholly to a change in control from the commission to the executive branch of our government, and if any of the trustees really care about retaining their positions as trustees, I personally very much regret that my duty in this seems so perfectly clear, and that I am compelled in obedience to my oath to recommend this imperative reform.

THE HIGHWAY DEPARTMENT.

This department has the expenditure annually of about $800,000 plus about an equal amount furnished by the towns where work is done, making a total of about $1,500,000. Here, again, in 1915 were summarily stripped away from the governor and council by far too many of their powers of supervision and control.

GOVERNOR AND COUNCIL SHUT OFF.

The act creating this commissioner absolutely bars the governor and council from all direction and supervision over the expenditure of this vast sum of money, and puts it without check into the hands of one man. I quote from it as follows: "Said highway commissioner shall have all the powers and perform all the duties imposed by the laws of the state . . . upon the governor and council, so far as the same relate to highway matters." This is altogether too much for safety and efficiency.

GOVERNOR AND COUNCIL SHOULD DIRECT AND SUPERVISE.

There should have been reserved the general power to direct, supervise and outline general policies. No one man can be an expert road-builder, and, at the same time be such a financier, business man and organizer as is involved in the handling of $1,500,000 each year to the best advantage. He needs the direction, supervision and advice which would come from such a body of men as the governor and council. His large questions should be taken to the governor and council and discussed, and if there is a difference of opinion on them the policy of the governor and council should prevail. The governor and council are alienated by such a law from giving the matter study and interest because their power to act is barred. The governor and council under the present law cannot easily know whether we are getting value received for our money or not.

SYSTEM WRONG.

I am not criticising the commissioner, but I am saying that the system is wrong, because it lacks the oversight of someone higher in authority. It is a vast business and there is lacking that efficient organization, system and supervision which makes every big business a success. It has seven district engineers who are paid about $1,800 per year, each having assistants. It has a large number of patrolmen all over the state. It has several salaried office engineers, and, of course, many hundreds of employees at times. You can readily see that the governor and council whose residences cover the whole state and who are men of experience might be helpful and might have good ideas as to this great business. They could assist in building up a better system of handling the business. But, above all considerations, they are held responsible by the people and should be given authority to direct and supervise. I recommend an amendment to the law making provisions in accordance with these suggestions.

THE CONTRAST.

I wish you would picture in your minds if you can a contrast which exists here in the state house when your work is done and you have gone home, I mean, of course, as things have been in the past. In two great departments the momentous things of the state are happening. There, nearly all the money which you have appropriated requiring discretion is being contracted and spent. On the other hand, in the office of your Chief Executive with his five advisers all elected by the people to administer the affairs of the state, is being transacted for the most part trivial and routine business, a multiplicity of petty and social things, such as appointing 100 justices of the peace each month, listening to complaints about the fish and game laws, telling a stream of callers they are in the wrong office and going over vouchers or warrants with meaningless formality. The governor and council have had taken from them the power to appoint for instance, a most important officer like the warden of the State's Prison, but they have left in their hands the power to appoint a police judge in Hampton, and so with other things, with only a few exceptions which have been prevented only by the strong arm of the Constitution. This tendency of stripping the authority of the governor and council is shown in the fact that the only assistance allowed in his office by existing law is $800 per year which I believe is the smallest, by far, of any office in the building. I have taken the liberty to ask a stenographer to assist me at the usual price of $1,000 per year, but under our law and procedure, I shall not know until the end of this session whether money will be appropriated for her or not. The trouble is not that the governor is not sufficiently busy, but rather in the fact that he is compelled by our system to be busy about trivial things while the important matters and the expenditure of $2,000,000 is delegated without supervision, control or veto to others. It is a condition that would never prevail in any successful business.

THE PRINCIPLE.

I have mentioned the two departments which expend the great bulk of our money, where the principle is most violated. But executive direction, supervision and check should reach into every department where the state's financial interests are involved. I ask you to study the laws, the practices and the expenditures of each with this principle in mind, if you believe the principle to be sound.

EDUCATION.

Realizing that the subject of education has taken a new and firmer hold upon the public mind on account of the lessons growing out of the war, and that the value of education and a uniform language as contributing factors to safe citizenship, had seized us with new force, I asked a committee of citizens in whom I had great confidence to study the common school system of the state with a view of advising me what changes should be made. Their report, to which you will have access, is a distinct contribution to modern educational thought. I commend it to your most careful study.

The general principle of the report, that every child in the state should have substantially the same opportunity for an elementary school education, wherever he may live, is absolutely sound. That the state should pay for this, where the local community is too poor to do so, is equally sound. That night schools should be furnished to enable those who work by day to learn to use the English language, is imperative as an Americanization measure. So much I unhesitatingly recommend and the necessary appropriation therefor which may be a considerable sum, perhaps $200,000 to $300,000 per year.

The details and machinery to these ends may be open to more careful scrutiny to adapt them to our situation. There must be executive supervision of finances. But the entire subject should be taken up as one of the great pieces of work for this legislature and substantial progress should be made to accomplish the ends stated in said report (which was made for us by Messrs. Streeter, Hopkins, Young, Scott, Taylor, Lessard and Harriman). Nothing that is said on Americanization should be construed to reflect on the patriotism of our Americans of French descent. They have immortalized their names by their splendid valor and patriotism in this war now happily ended. Neither is there any reflection on any school men or any kind of schools. We are simply facing a new day, and we must face it in the new light of things that now are.

. THE FEDERAL AMENDMENT.

The legal machinery of the nation is now in motion to amend the Federal Constitution, making the sale of intoxicating liquors for beverage purposes unconstitutional throughout the entire country. It requires the vote of three fourths of the states to make this effectual. Already fifteen states have ratified it. Both political parties in this state pledged the people in their platforms that they would favor such ratification. In other words, we are all pledged to it. It would be a credit to the state to see every senator and representative keep that political pledge on the ground that it represents his honest promise to the people, even if he is not so sure of his unpromised preference. When we agreed to do this it should be considered as good as done, and further argument should be unnecessary. Let us pass this without a dissenting vote. We will thereby permanently establish greater safety to the home and greater security to the state. It is also a most certain step in the line of state economy.

STATE BOARD OF CHARITIES AND CORRECTIONS.

This department has unquestionably been the instrument of a large amount of very helpful service in the line of child-welfare work in which we are all intensely interested. It has grown to be a department which this year puts in a request for practically $60,000. The board has visiting powers and serves without pay. Here, again, I will say, without recommendation, that the governor and council do not appoint the secretary who has the expenditure of this sum of money. He is appointed by the board. He is a very earnest and faithful worker in this important activity. It may be that you will feel that this department also should be brought a little closer to the executive authority and direction.

THE NEW HAMPSHIRE COLLEGE.

The New Hampshire College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts has grown to be a great institution. It is a benefit more than commensurate with its cost to the state. It renders a kind of service and influence not easily measured in exact terms of money. We are obligated by the acceptance of gifts of trust, and justified by its beneficial work in the state, to appropriate sufficient money to it each year to produce a sum, which, when added to its fixed permanent income, will maintain this institution on a plane of efficiency comparable with other institutions of its kind, and befitting the dignity and standing of the state. We find at this college just now real reconstruction war problems. I have been over them carefully with the president, and also over each item of his estimates which I believe are made conservatively and in good faith and which I recommend to you, although they are much larger than usual. They are also recommended to me by a distinguished committee of farmers in whom I have implicit confidence (Messrs. Farmer, Caldwell, Rogers, Ranney, Hunter, Titus and Putnam). The war work of this college has won us distinction. The barracks and other buildings erected for war purposes are involved in the estimates, but they may be made of some permanent benefit. Negotiations are now going on for a settlement with the Federal government. The college has been running on a subnormal financial basis for a few years, but we might as well now face the fact that it will cost more to run it, perhaps $50,000 per year more than formerly, and then also acknowledge and realize the truth, that it is worth what it will cost. It is under excellent management and instruction. It gets about $120,000 annually from bequests and grants from the Federal government, and we make up the balance. We have been, and are now, constructing costly buildings. I think the governor, or some member of his council, or someone by them duly authorized, should visit the institution oftener and keep closer supervision of the erection of new buildings, and of unusual outlays of money. The new dormitory authorized by the last legislature is about half done, the war barracks must be made suitable for dormitory purposes, and other imperative things done or completed. I discover no tendency to waste and no tendency to be unfair to the state.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE.

The problem of agriculture in New Hampshire has in it elements of hope and again elements of despair. Certain changes in the evolution of the state were inevitable. Our water power and scenery have saved our state from decadence during the period in which the farms of a generation ago have been experiencing partial abandonment. The streams and scenery have built up cities and villages and brought thousands of tourists, creating a splendid market which did not formerly exist, in fact, so splendid that our best agriculturists now believe that even our small and rocky farms, by intelligent handling, and by discovering their best line of productiveness, may again be made the abiding places of comfortable and thrifty homes, the source of our best citizenship. While I believe the farmer's success, like success in every other occupation, lies in the line of study and enterprise more than in legislation, yet the experience of every state has been that the state, through agricultural departments and agricultural colleges, has been led forward to higher standards of agricultural productiveness and prosperity. We must produce new conditions and not attempt to drive the people back to old conditions. The committee assisting me has made a careful study of the needs of this department as applied to the service it could give to farmers. I have not space to review here all the minor parts of their report. But I do cite with approval their conclusion that this department should do what is called "market bureau" work to aid farmers in locating and maintaining the best market for what they raise, and that this legislature should make suitable appropriation for this purpose. The war has impressed us forcibly with the value of agriculture. We cannot afford to adopt a narrow policy toward agriculture and this department.

TOLL BRIDGES ARE RELICS OF MONEY AUTOCRACY.

A toll bridge means, in unvarnished English, that some corporation owns a piece of the public highway with a right to hold up the people for money every time they pass. One of the most primitive functions of government is to provide a free road for its people to walk in and do business over. Realize if you can what it means to have freemen in free America held up hourly in a public road for money, a thousand laborers with dinner-pails standing in the road in a cold winter's day waiting their turn to pay before they pass, five hundred automobiles invited to our state receiving the inhospitable welcome of waiting in line until money can be exacted from each, even a funeral procession held up in the dead cold of winter to await the annoyance of the toll invader, and even veterans of our wars, who fought to keep the states united, compelled to pay when stepping over the state line from one state into another. We all know that they are relics of barbarism and un-American. It involves a principle so vital that labor unions, both state and national, are aroused over it. It is not a local matter. It is a political cancer, and permeates every artery of the body politic.

EVERY TOLL BRIDGE.

I refer to every toll bridge in the State of New Hampshire. This legislature shall be known in history as the legislature that emancipated the highways of the state. The worst offence in the state is between Portsmouth and Kittery.

The local communities are not big enough to cope with the question. It requires both states, and, if possible, the Federal government. Two years ago the legislature, joining with the legislature of Maine, created a joint commission of six of their very distinguished citizens. Our commission consisted of the late Senator Gallinger, Governor Keyes and Judge Page. A unanimous, favorable report from this committee will come before us. A new, free bridge is contemplated, surveys and plans made. It is favored by the governors of the two states, all the senators and congressmen of the two states and by everyone so far as I have heard. It is an imperative necessity. The present toll bridge is rickety and dangerous and sways with the tide. When it goes down New Hampshire and Maine are absolutely separated.

HOW TO FINANCE IT.

The State of Maine whose legislature is now convening, having a budget system, has placed in its budget toward the construction of this bridge $250,000 for each of the next two years. It would quite likely take two or three years to build this bridge. I think if we saw fit to spread our portion over three or four years, we would not block the project. If we appropriated $200,000 this year and $100,000 yearly for three years more, that would make our portion and I think the delay in the payments could be arranged. You may be able to think of some better method. We have accepted Federal aid for our post roads by appropriating dollar for dollar for five years. We will get $180,000 in two years from this source. While this could probably not be spent on a bridge, the equivalent of it could be, and then we would be just as well off with our roads over the state as we were before this Federal aid came. The automobile money is growing all the time, and $133,000 from this for four years for such an imperative purpose would not hurt the rest of the state. But if it did curtail a little, the general highway construction and repair work of the state over the roads of the state, would that not be better and wiser? Is it proper or fair to the workingman and farmer or the public generally to spend over $800,000, as we did last year even, in polishing up the roads of the state for automobiles, and at the same time refuse to take a portion of that money to provide a road for the public to walk in and do legitimate business over? If we cannot afford to provide a road for a poor man to walk in, so far as I am concerned we cannot afford to fix up roads for automobiles to run over. I recommend that by some reasonable system of financing we match Maine's $500,000 toward this bridge, and co-operate with Maine in the best way possible to bring it to an early consummation. I also recommend that we outline a policy by which every toll bridge in the state in accordance with that policy shall be freed. This is not a new thing for New Hampshire. Two years ago we appropriated money to help free a small toll bridge in Haverhill, the home of your then governor. It was a smaller matter, to be sure, but it was an honorable and praiseworthy precedent.

MEMORIAL TO THE SOLDIER AND SAILOR DEAD.

Governor Milliken of Maine who is being inaugurated today, has honored us by furnishing me in advance with an extract from his inaugural address which he is now delivering, which proposes in beautiful language an idea widely entertained and universally endorsed. These are his words:

"There is a well-defined and proper sentiment among our people for some sort of memorial to be constructed by the state in honor of those who have lately made the supreme sacrifice for the freedom of the world. If a public edifice is to form any part of this program it is desirable that the structure be useful as well as dignified and beautiful. In this connection I call your attention to the plan that has been made by a Maine and New Hampshire joint commission for a new bridge between Portsmouth and Kittery in place of the present insecure and inadequate toll bridge. On account of the navy yard at Kittery, it is hoped that the Federal government will assume a liberal share of the cost of such a bridge. In that event, Maine and New Hampshire might agree upon this bridge as a joint memorial to the soldier and sailor dead. Especially appropriate would such a memorial be because of the fact that most of the overseas casualties of both states were in the matchless 103d infantry composed of Maine and New Hampshire men."

I heartily endorse the sentiment and proposal of the governor of our sister state, adding that on the New Hampshire side, in some suitable and beautiful form should be presented to the public view for perpetual remembrance the names of all our soldier and sailor dead who died in the world-war for liberty and civilization.

QUESTIONS OF LABOR.

Although I have had conferences with organized labor leaders in the state, I am not able at this time to inform you just what request they may desire to make of this legislature. I hope and believe that the war has strengthened the principle of brotherhood and made it easier for capital and labor by conference and compromise to find a common ground of agreement to stand upon and work together. Labor in this state is rational, conciliatory and honestly led. It will be to the state's great advantage if it shall continue so.

Every possible effort of a reasonable nature should be made during the coming few months to keep everyone employed during the transition period.

In the absence of definite pledges or proposals I urge you to retain an open mind on all labor questions, and to give to each such problem as may come to you for solution that sympathetic consideration which befits the spirit of the times and which places humanity ahead of the dollar.

FORESTRY DEPARTMENT.

I do not yet feel competent to form a present opinion as to whether this department benefits the state to the extent of $40,000 a year or not. We have a skilled forester, I am sure, and he has been very patriotic during the war, having had charge of one of the lumber units in Scotland. I recommend that he give us a lecture on his work here, as well as on his experiences in Europe. Then we may be better able to judge of his value to the state. The war demands have made some inroads into our forests, but just how far the state can act, and just what should be left to the more potent factor of making money I do not feel certain. Public sentiment and personal interest are generally more effectual than state coddling. I am fully alive to the value of forests but how to meet the problems so far as the state is concerned is in my region of doubt.

ATTORNEY-GENERAL'S DEPARTMENT.

My idea of a well-organized state government would make this department of more importance than at present. The head of the department should have no other business and should be paid accordingly. This department should advise the executive, all departments, and the members of the legislature, on strict matters of law. It should attend to the supervision of the enforcement of all the criminal laws of the state, giving direction to all subordinate prosecuting officers. Eventually a state of our size must see the folly of expecting to have a different prosecutor for every kind of a crime. I question whether the laws against cheating need a department of four salaried men. Eventually, when we get down to established prohibition made permanent by the Federal Constitution, I question if the attorney-general cannot enforce those laws as well as others. If we keep on with our sinister tendency we will have a department for every known crime and the attorney-general's department will be doing nothing. We should enact laws so that we can hold the executive and his legal department responsible for all law and order in the state, in all lines. It will be cheaper and more effectual.

PUBLIC SERVICE COMMISSION.

This commission has been a necessity and is still useful and beneficial. The railroad situation is going through an evolutionary period and no one can say now what may later be easy to decide with reference to this commission. It could gradually be reduced to one member in a state of this size, and its expenses reduced by supervision and by possible co-operation with our colleges. In 1917 we appropriated for it $10,700 for salaries, $15,000 for experts, clerks and assistants, and $6,000 for other expenses, making $31,700 in all. The members are honest, efficient and hard working. Our colleges ought to do a part of the scientific work needed in the departments, and could, if the executive had authority to work out better co-operation.

STATE BOARD OF HEALTH.

The state board of health and the laboratory of hygiene received an appropriation in 1917 amounting to $24,350 per year and ask for $31,250 for next year. This department should receive more attention and be strengthened. But I have an idea that one or both of our colleges for whom we do so much could be co-operated with in such a way as to help the college and save much money to the state. If we are going to have such a fine scientific school at Durham it certainly ought to do much of the scientific analysis of these departments. I have not been informed of any reason why this could not all be done at Durham. Someone should be given power to look into this question.

INSURANCE DEPARTMENT.

This department is carefully and conscientiously managed on strict business principles. It brings to the state about $135,000 each year, safeguards our insurance policies, and successfully administers the so-called "blue sky" law which has kept out of the state worthless securities, and has also netted profit in fees during the first year of its operation.

BANK COMMISSION.

This department keeps a careful and constant eye on our banks. During the war they have had trying problems requiring good judgment and great financial acumen to handle; and the success of their work, in the remarkable showing of all our banks, is a source of pride to our people and honor to the state. Three skilled men are required to do the work of this department.

TAX COMMISSION.

This commission has placed our taxation system in this state on a more equable and sounder basis. It has proven the wisdom of its establishment. The commissioners are men of very exceptional strength in the line of their special study. I am of the opinion, however, that one man can now run this department, and I recommend that a law be enacted providing that when vacancies occur in the board they be not filled, until the board is finally reduced to one member. We never have three judges sit on a case, and one man can easily perform all the duties now done by three.

AN EXECUTIVE BUDGET.

My esteemed predecessor recommended in his inaugural an executive budget. It was not acted upon. I heartily recommend it again. By it we mean the following: Each department is required by law to make up its estimates, together with arguments and reasons why each item should be allowed, and file it with the treasurer for the benefit of the incoming governor by December 1 of each biennial period preceding the inauguration; then the incoming governor may begin to study them carefully, and, within ten days after his inaugural, should report to the legislature what he thinks should be allowed in each item of each department. Then the law provides that the legislature shall take up this budget by departments, having a separate bill for each department, consider them carefully, amend them and change them as they see fit and pass them. The law should require that this should be done before any other bills carrying appropriations shall be considered. This clears the budget up at the beginning of the term. It makes a fine system, and enables the legislature to know just where it stands as well as the department. It tends to stop department lobbying and trading.

HOW IT IS NOW.

At the present time each department hands its estimates, without reasons, to the state treasurer. He turns them over to the Committee on Appropriations of the House who prepares a bill, or bills, for the legislature to act upon. This usually comes in late in the session as one long bill and goes through without study or discussion. As the governor probably has not the power to veto part without the whole he is almost compelled to put no thought into it. The system is confusing and unbusinesslike. Without such a law I am attempting to approximate the idea somewhat by giving to you herewith the requests which have come in this year. I have been in possession of them but a very few days, and therefore do not feel like making recommendations in each case, as I would if we had the budget system which I recommend. But it will give you an illustration of what I mean. I earnestly recommend for this year even as the law is now that your Appropriation Committee report separate bills for the separate departments, and do this as early in the session as possible somewhat as an executive budget law would provide. Such a law is in force and works splendidly in many states.

REQUESTS FROM DEPARTMENTS FOR NEXT YEAR.

For public information and for your study and discussion, I give you here the estimates of the different departments for 1920 which I have just obtained, the law requiring them to be given to the state treasurer by January 1. I recommend that you study these figures in connection with each department because your votes will decide what each department gets, if anything. It gives you an idea of how the money is spent. It illustrates the necessity of your being permitted by separate bills to vote on each department separately if you really care, as you should, to have something to say about the finances of the state.

FINANCES EASILY UNDERSTOOD.

The finances of our state, meaning by that the general principles underlying them, are easy to understand and I urge you to study them until you do understand them. If necessary we will have lectures upon them.

HOW THE STATE GETS ITS REVENUE NOW.

At present we are obtaining practically all of the money with which we are running the state from the tax on corporations, including the railroads, savings banks, insurance companies, etc. It requires, speaking roughly, around $2,000,000 to run the state at present. But, of this sum, only about $60,000, or 3 per cent, of it is paid into the state treasury by other sources than the corporations. This small portion which does not come from the corporations, comes from 71 towns. There are 164 towns and cities that actually pay nothing, but, on the contrary, after having their allotted tax deducted, they actually receive from the state treasury out of this corporation tax money the sum of $372,690. In other words, the corporations paid enough taxes last year to run the state and return about $260,000. It is fair that we should know this. If the state paid nothing back to any town or city, it would have about $260,000 in its treasury each year more than we now have, and towns and cities would have no state tax to pay at all.

THE STATE TAX OF $850,000.

The foregoing results are arrived at somewhat as follows: We have assessed a state tax for the last two years of $850,000. But the corporations, in addition to the amount of their tax which the state retained for its use, paid into the state treasury the sum of $1,112,320.96. This sum, in pursuance of different laws, is paid to the towns and cities of the state. They all get something. One hundred and sixty-four towns get enough to pay their state tax and have an aggregate of $372,690 as a kind of bonus, while 71 towns get part of their state tax paid but not quite the whole, lacking about $60,000. Our distinguished and successful Governor Quinby, ten years ago in his message, said that the "most equitable and efficient means of increasing the public revenue lie in retaining in the state treasury" a good portion of these corporation taxes now returned to towns and cities in unequal proportions.

TWO INAUGURAL ADDRESSES.

In an entirely frank and cheerful spirit I desire to discuss a set of recommendations which will be made to you at once by a recess committee. They cover the same ground which the law compels me to cover. They give you what is practically another inaugural address. Someone in the last legislature, evidently being uncertain who might be the next governor, seemed to think this was a wise precaution. I welcome it because discussions are helpful. Forced to refer it to because of the danger of your being confused by it, I trust it will be understood that no personal element is involved, but simply that we are deliberating squarely and openly in the full hearing of the public.

Permit me to say that this committee has been working only since my election, and that I have been doing the same. Furthermore, that I have advised with as many as possible both in and outside the state house, with people of every kind and class, that I have studied with every interest of the state in mind, and with the determination which comes from a sense of responsibility to all the people, you may be sure. Again, there are no general facts which I have not studied. The difference between my conclusions and theirs is one of opinion and judgment, in which you have a full right to share, and which you can understand, by thought and study, as well as any of us.

This report, in some ways, does not apply as strong a policy of economy as this message, because I recommend the abolishment of at least one commission, cutting down the number of commissioners in others, and a policy of executive supervision which will reduce all expenses all along the line. My whole policy is to establish a business organization of all our state workers in order that there may be no duplication and no loss. I deery waste everywhere regardless of where it hits. This report makes none of these recommendations.

For new revenue they limit your consideration to three ways, namely, taxing near relatives under our inheritance law, a law to induce corporations to organize here to get the fees from them, and the state tax. You will see they omit the proposition (1) to tax intangibles, and (2) the income tax, which I discuss later. My recommendation is that you study all and decide for yourself.

There is about $200,000 in the treasury left of the half million of the proceeds of the war bonds. They recommend that you at once vote that no more of this shall be used. It can only be used for war purposes as defined in the law, and it cannot get out of the treasury until the governor signs a warrant for it, so, personally I cannot see any cause for anxious worry about it. It is there, in the treasury, perfectly safe. You will have to take this into account when you pass your appropriation bill and make some provision for its application, of course. I understand the governor's stenographer for the war period has been paid out of it in part, and that rightfully. She is still working. The state historian for our boys is being kept going from it to finish the history of our heroes. Do you want to stop that? Some soldiers' widows or dead soldier's mother may need immediate relief. Can you trust us until your appropriation bill takes care of the situation?

The report compliments the bookkeeping in just one department and suggests that the governor has not done his duty, or may do it, as to other departments. It does not suggest that the governor has no power or authority to direct and check departments.

It refers to a "strain" on the state for "a few years" and recommends the "greatest care" against any new propositions for a few years. Here we may be misled. My position is that we should have the greatest care not only for a few years, but always. Again my position is that we should exercise the greatest care and courage to cut off past errors, follies, and excesses, and to apply to them this same scrutiny and pruning-hook precisely as we should to new propositions.

If this thrust at new propositions in said report is intended as opposition to the constructive policies which I am recommending requiring money, I cheerfully accept the issue and appeal to you and the public to pass judgment, honestly, without prejudice and in the spirit of the new day.

THERE IS NO "STRAIN" ON THE STATE.

After wide consultation and most careful study I am unable to discover any unusual financial strain on the state. If we take a hopeful, forward-looking and optimistic view of our future, we are now entering upon the most prosperous and mutually helpful period in all our history. The war has taken some of our sons which we sorely lament, but it has brought us closer together and given us new vision and determination. The Kaiser has made us spend about $300,000 but I can assure him that such a sum produces no "strain" on New Hampshire. She has $600,000,000 of taxable property, and nobody knows how many millions of untaxed and untaxable property. I ask you to ponder in your minds the right proportions when you are deciding what a "strain" is on New Hampshire. The relation of $600,000,000 we have to the $300,000 we spent is precisely the same relation as it would be if a man having $600 was forced to spend 30 cents. You can figure that out for yourselves. It would produce no "strain." This amount which the war made us spend is less than the money which the state annually pays back to the towns and cities. Comparatively speaking, our state debt is very small. It could be entirely wiped out simply by one mill tax each year for three years.

WE ARE STRONGER THAN EVER.

For all our changes the net result is we are stronger than ever. We have eliminated the tremendous waste and havoc of intoxicating liquor. From this the state is profiting with amazing rapidity. Some of our institutions may soon become factories. There is certainly no "strain" on the people of the state caused by the state tax, because, as I have shown, that is more than paid by the corporation tax.

THE STRONG MUST HELP THE WEAK.

A state will lose, in time, by a too parsimonious policy. The state must be looked upon as a public function by which the strong are made to help the weak. When we carry the doctrine of economy to the extreme of denying things necessary for the poor and unfortunate and the public good, we are, in effect, aiding the strong and denying the weak, seeing only property, and placing the dollar before humanity. Such a policy has a tendency to hurry a possible day when a war may come between those who have and those who have not.

FIVE CHOICES FOR NEW INCOME.

The matter of how the state shall obtain the necessary additional revenue I will discuss under five heads for you to consider and select your own preference.

(1) TAX ON INCOMES. We should thoroughly study the question of taxing incomes. It is coming to be understood as the fairest and easiest method of taxation. By it no one pays unless he has earned an income so that he can pay, and very wealthy people with very large incomes pay heavily, and can afford to pay heavily. The nation has adopted this policy, foreign countries have adopted it and our states are fast adopting it. I believe that real estate is bearing about enough of the public burden, speaking generally. If a man is protected by the state and the government in the enjoyment of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness while he is earning a good income, he ought to pay a tax on that income, at least, this is the argument and it has great force in it.

(2) INHERITANCE TAX. As the law is now, there is no inheritance tax payable by the nearer relatives of a deceased person, such as children and grandchildren, husband and wife and brothers and sisters. If the law was extended, so as to make them pay, we could get considerable money after a year or two. Such a law, if you approve of it, should not tax legacies or shares which are less than $10,000 at all. Many states now have such a law.

(3) A CORPORATION FRANCHISE TAX LAW. States like New Jersey have brought a great amount of money into their treasury by placing on their statute books a law, under which corporations may be organized in such wise as to make it tempting to people all over the country to come to that state in order to organize their corporations. Then they are taxed by the state for the privilege. The trouble with such a law is that the more crooked you make it, the more money you get. It has been repeatedly killed by legislatures in this state. Nevertheless, I believe we could pass an honest corporation law which would improve the present law, and which would bring to our treasury in legitimate manner from $25,000 to $50,000 per year. Such a law must be carefully scrutinized.

(4) TAX ON INTANGIBLES. There are probably millions of dollars in this state, nobody knows how many millions, which escape taxation wholly because they are in strong boxes undisclosed. If they were disclosed, the regular tax on them would be ruinous. Many states have adopted a policy of taxing these in a special manner and have gained enormous sums thereby. A recent paper, by the chairman of our tax commission on this subject, is worthy of careful study.

(5) STATE TAX. Whatever we may do by way of opening up one or more of the four sources of taxation aforesaid, the amount which they will produce is problematical, while the state tax is a sure source. The inequality with which the corporation taxes are returned to the cities and towns has never seemed right to me. The railroads, insurance companies and banks are the natural children of the state, are supervised and controlled by the state and many believe with Governor Quinby that their tax belongs to the state for the benefit of all of the people of the state equally. Does it seem right that a rich city with splendid schools and a fine citizenship should pay no state tax and receive a present of $50,000 annually from the state treasury, while poor towns, with poor schools and difficult citizenship, should pay their state tax and receive nothing? I realize that this will be opposed because the great majority of the towns and cities receive a great benefit. But, though it hurts my own city, I must adhere to the principle involved.

OUR STANDARD OF ECONOMY.

In establishing in our minds, each for his own guidance, a standard or level of economy by which we will test every line of expenditure, we must look over departments which now exist under our state laws, as well as to the new things proposed. Times change, and a new proposal may be far more important than an obsolete department. We are here to change the laws, if necessary, not simply to prevent new ones. We must not treat existing expenditures as sacred and then say that we can afford no more. To bring things up to date, we may have to cut out some existing expenditures and inaugurate new things demanded by the present. Reconstruction means reconstruction. It does not mean standing still.

TO APPLY MY REASONING TO MY RECOMMENDATIONS.

To make the foregoing reasoning applicable to the constructive recommendations which I am making in this address, permit me to say: I feel very positive the State of New Hampshire is not too poor to afford (1) to give every child in the state a common school education up to the ninth grade with thirty-six weeks in a year, with some regard to the child's health, whether that child lives in Hart's Location or Manchester; (2) to maintain the agricultural department and the New Hampshire College in a healthy standard of efficiency, sufficient to furnish incentive and uplift to the agricultural interests of the state; (3) to spend enough of its $800,000 of annual road money to provide free roads for its people; and (4) to do justice to its living defenders and their dependents with reasonable memorial to the dead.

I say this without regard to what we have now. I would say this, if it meant the abolishment of every commission in this building. It is fundamental. The standard of economy which embraces these things is not too high for the poorest state to adopt. It may be that the yard-stick of economy which measures these things in will measure some things out. Of that I am not so positive. But certain it is, that no one can consistently oppose any of the foregoing on the ground of economy, and at the same time defend many of the existing expenditures of the state. That is what I mean by establishing the same level of economy for everything whether past, present or future.

CONCLUDING WORDS.

I have necessarily spoken at great length, and I thank you for your remarkable patience. I also thank the members for so cordially giving their seats to our guests, and the guests for the honor of their presence. I have necessarily omitted things of importance, but I may come in again later. Trusting that we may work together honestly and cheerfully, with an eye single to the interests of our state, and that through us and our work, God will prosper all our people, I again thank you.

COMMITTEE REPORTS.

Mr. Collins of Danville, for the Recess Committee on State Finances, presented the following report:

On motion of the same gentleman, the rules were suspended and the reading of the report dispensed with.

REPORT OF RECESS COMMITTEE ON STATE FINANCES.

To the Honorable Senate and House of Representatives in General Court Convened:

By resolution introduced by Mr. Duffy of Franklin and passed by the Senate and House of Representatives on the 19th of April, 1917, the governor was requested to appoint a committee consisting of four members of the House and one member of the Senate to sit during the recess and until the convening of the legislature of 1919, "for the purpose of making a study of the possible ways and means of introducing economies in all our state departments and institutions with the object that the work of these departments may not be impaired; and for the further purpose of studying what additional ways of raising increased revenues may be suggested as necessities require that the burdens of taxation may not be unnecessarily increased or disproportionately levied," and, "to submit its findings and any suggestions relative thereto that they may think best to the 1919 legislature."

Under this resolution the governor appointed a committee consisting of Senator Clarence M. Collins of Danville and Representatives James E. French of Moultonborough, Benjamin W. Couch of Concord, James F. Brennan of Peterborough and Richard H. Horan of Manchester, and the committee organized by the selection of Senator Collins as chairman and Mr. Horan as clerk.

The committee has called into consultation various state officials and heads of departments and institutions, has deliberated upon the subject-matter of the resolution, and makes its report to the legislature of 1919 as follows:

Increased and New Revenue.

The state is constantly assuming new financial burdens, some of which result from the creation of new activities, like the regulation of all public service corporations, construction and maintenance of highways on a larger scale, regulation of weights and measure, and other things requiring executive officers, clerks and officers, and others of which result from the taking over by the state of activities which had been carried on by the counties and towns, like the assumption by the state of the care of all the county insane and other delinquents, but all of which increase the necessity for additional state revenue.

It is evident that the successive legislatures have added one such thing to another until the requirements put upon the treasury are such that the time has come when it is necessary for the state to materially increase its revenues if it is to continue the "pay as you go" policy under which its finances have heretofore been successfully operated.

The committee suggests three sources of increased and new revenue; an increased direct state tax, the addition of a limited direct inheritance tax to the collateral inheritance tax now in force, and the enactment of a modern corporation law which shall contain suitable provisions for revenue to the state from this source.

The necessity for an increase in the state tax need no be discussed in this report.

A large increase in revenue could readily be secured by the passage of an act providing for a limited direct inheritance tax. This form of taxation is now in force in thirty-six of the states including all of the New England States except our own, and there are but seven states which limit the operation of the inheritance tax to collaterals. It has been the experience of the states which have adopted the direct inheritance tax, that it has produced a large revenue, and the burden is light, and properly placed if a liberal straight exemption is made of the smaller legacies and estates.

These exemptions vary in the several states, but the average is an exemption of from $5,000 to $10,000 of legacies to each widow and minor child. New Hampshire received last year about $195,000 from the collateral tax now in force, and the average for the last six years has been about $160,000 per annum.

No financial relief to the state can be obtained from this source during the first year after it goes into operation, because it takes about a year generally to administer an estate, but it is estimated that after the second year such a tax would add at least $250,000 to the annual revenue. We recommend the passage of a limited direct inheritance tax law, with liberal exemptions to widows and minor children as in some of the more liberal of the other states.

Many states have enacted modern, liberal, revenue-producing corporation laws. New Hampshire should do the same. The facts are that there is scarcely to be found a case of foreign capital coming to this state to incorporate, and there are altogether too many cases of our corporations and our capital seeking the states with the modern laws in which to incorporate. This is all wrong and is a detriment to the state. Our corporation laws are archaic, and we recommend the passage of an entirely new law containing safe and sane, but up-to-date, and revenue-producing, provisions governing the incorporating of capital to be used in the conduct of business. We can not undertake to discuss in detail what should be the exact provisions of such an act.

Economies in Expenditure.

Our examination of the financial conduct of the various departments and institutions has not disclosed any need of changes other than some of minor importance which may be put into effect by the governor and council under existing law. The bookkeeping in the department of institutions has been modernized, simplified and greatly improved, and it may be that the governor and council can extend this improvement in other departments.

Under this head we report that we believe that an act should be passed which will cut off further expenditures under chapters 97 and 216, Laws of 1917, the million dollar war fund, "An act directing the governor and council to assist the government of the United States in the present crisis and authorizing them to provide for the public safety." We believe that if there are any further expenditures of this nature to be made, such as care of soldiers' dependents, the matters should be presented to the legislature for action anew now that the war crisis has passed.

Our examination has led us to the conclusion that it is a mistake to pass any act which provides that the expense of operating such act shall be paid out of the revenues which may be derived from the operation of such act. We recommend that existing defects of this character be cured, and that care be taken that no more acts containing this feature be passed.

It is possible that an economy may be effected in the matter of printing the permanent House journal, by printing extra copies of the daily journal, to be left unfolded and bound at the end of the session. As to whether this is feasible, as to proper correction of mistakes for instance, can best be decided by the House officers, but if it can reasonably be done, we are informed that about $1,500 may be saved. We present the matter for your consideration.

New Avenues for Expenditure.

The committee, as a result of its deliberations on the matter of the state's finances generally, particularly in view of the inevitable financial strain to be put upon the state during the next few years, desires to very strongly recommend to the legislature that it examine with the greatest care any and all propositions which would involve the state in new and continuing expenditures.

From time to time some new avenues for expenditure of the revenues of the state must be added, but for a time at least, only those which shall be deemed to be strictly necessary should be adopted by the legislature.

In its recommendation under this head it is impossible for the committee to be specific as to any particular matter because no such matters have been presented to us, and because no such matter can be properly judged in advance of the introduction of a bill, hearings before the committee to which it is referred, report, and debate thereon in the legislature.

RESOLUTIONS.

Mr. Challis of Manchester, for the committee appointed to prepare and present to the House suitable resolutions on the death of Theodore Roosevelt, reported as follows:

WHEREAS, This House has received the sad intelligence of the death at his home at Oyster Bay, of Theodore Roosevelt, more than seven years President of the United States, therefore be it

Resolved, by the House of Representatives of the New Hampshire legislature, That in the death of Theodore Roosevelt we recognize the passing of a great man, of a soldier of proved courage, of a statesman of tried ability, of a scholar of wide attainments, of a citizen of the highest ideals, of an American beyond cavil.

It was given to Theodore Roosevelt, as to no other of his day, to stir the imagination and to fire the hearts of men. Like Abraham Lincoln of another time he typified the desire for justice among all men and for the reign of righteousness among the nations. Careless of personal consequences, sturdy, stalwart, strong, he pressed toward the mark of his high ideals. Millions gladly followed his leadership and the nations and the world grieves at his departure. "A prince and a great man has fallen in Israel."

In token of the sentiments of this body, it is ordered that this House be in recess during the hour of the funeral; that its flag be at half-staff, and that a copy of these resolutions, properly engrossed, be transmitted to the family so intensely bereaved by the event we deplore.

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The Honorable Secretary of State then appeared and laid before the House the following message from His Excellency, the Governor:

STATE OF NEW HAMPSHIRE.

EXECUTIVE CHAMBER.

CONCORD, January 9, 1919.

To the Members of the House of Representatives:

I herewith officially communicate to you the report of a committee appointed November 20, 1918, to assist and advise me in matters pertaining to the system of public education for the state.

I recommend that you have this report printed, and that you give it thorough study through your appropriate committee, and that they draft and introduce such bill as shall seem to them wise under all circumstances, having in mind the objects to be accomplished and reserving in the executive department sufficient and safe supervision of the expenditures involved in any new system which you shall see fit to recommend. This is a great and imperative problem for your solution. I do not ask you to feel bound by the letter or detail of the report, but I earnestly ask you to at least approximately solve the great problem.

JOHN H. BARTLETT,

Governor.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE APPOINTED NOVEMBER 20, 1918,
BY GOVERNOR-ELECT JOHN H. BARTLETT TO ASSIST AND ADVISE IN MATTERS PERTAINING TO THE SYSTEM OF PUBLIC EDUCATION FOR THE STATE.

I.

DEFECTS IN THE SYSTEM OF THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS IN NEW HAMPSHIRE.

Principles requiring new attention to organization of system of education within the state.—A free people cannot endure except through widespread ability to distinguish between those things which are true and those which are false, and through the will to cherish truth. Education is the principal agent for the accomplishment of such an end. In order that education shall be effective it must be organized. The usual and reasonable unit of organization in America is the state.

Educational problems all important.—The greatest problems before the world at the present time are problems of organization: the organization of governments, the organization of economic resources, the organization of industry, the organization of brains. Of these, the needs of education are receiving attention second to nothing else in the forward looking nations, due to new understanding that the status of a people must depend upon its capacity through education to establish the right basis for progress.

Misfortunes of nations lacking educational facilities.—The outstanding examples of the misfortunes attendant upon lack of knowledge of the truth are Russia, in which truth has been unattainable because of lack of any system of organized education for the people at large, and Germany, wherein truth has been perverted through malign influence of the state in its teachings of incomplete truths or overemphasized facts, under the guise of affording education.

Action desirable now.—It would therefore be essential at this time for New Hampshire to examine its system and its processes of education under any circumstances, but it is at least imperative that inadequacies known even heretofore to exist should be promptly provided for, and that amplifications of the organization and system of public instruction should be such that the people of New Hampshire should be afforded facilities equivalent to those enjoyed by people in any part of the United States.

State-wide development essential.—It is coming to be generally recognized that not only altruism but intelligent self-interest demands the bringing up to standard of backward portions of any community. The healthful and enlightened section of a city is nevertheless subject to the contagion of an epidemic which originates within a forlorn portion of the community, for whose condition the municipality at large may well technically disavow responsibility. In no less marked degree the body politic may be subjected to the dangers of ill-considered or illogical thinking on the part of communities, for the development of whose mental processes the state may, with apparent reason, attempt to avoid accountability.

New Hampshire must not lag.—Inasmuch as it is granted by general consent that the state is the proper unit within which to develop the organization of free public instruction, that state in which organized education of the public school system is not available in like degree to all classes or to all sections cannot escape stigma at a time when the importance of education is recognized as never before.

Criticism constructive and not destructive.—It is with no purpose of implying that conditions within the State of New Hampshire are exceptionally bad, that attention is called to existing conditions which are not good. It is with no censorious attitude toward the position of the state in the past that argument is made that weaknesses inherent in the system should be corrected rather than left to be compensated for by placing unfair responsibility and undue burden upon the state department of instruction.

Qualities of good citizenship.—Citizenship is better conserved by preventive measures which safeguard against ill, than by corrective measures. The latter can never be dispensed with, but their importance ought constantly to decrease in comparison with work of the former type.

Primarily the requisite attributes for citizenship are good character, good health, and intelligence. The responsibility for no one of these can be avoided by a state in the development of its system of public instruction, except with the possibility of large social cost and perhaps even danger.

Environment vital factor in children's health.—Let us take the matter of health for example. It is coming to be recognized that physical condition is far less a matter of predestination than was formerly believed, but rather is a status largely within the control of the individual and those who influence his environment. It is inevitable that, with the insufficient knowledge in many communities of the factors which affect children's health, physical harm shall be done within the public schools, where physical benefit ought to accrue, unless a definite and sufficient authority is given to a competent body to establish the requisite standards for the conservation of health. For instance, the location of desks so that children face the light is found in many a school, to the permanent impairment of the eyesight of the majority of the pupils who are subjected to these conditions. The lack of cleanliness through inadequate janitor service, the lack of proper ventilation through insufficient regard for the advantages of fresh air, and the lack of competent supervision of sanitary provisions are evils in many a school toward which too often local school boards are blind. Yet authority and responsibility and adequate inspection service are not so placed, either in the Department of Public Instruction or elsewhere, that the state can have knowledge and say through a properly accredited agent "These things shall not be," with any certainty that they will be corrected.

Influences on children's character development not safeguarded.—It is, of course, true that character building is the result of subtle influences which cannot be defined in words, and the absolute specifications of which cannot be laid down. It is, nevertheless, a fact that children at the most susceptible age ought by no possibility to be subjected to the influence of teachers whose qualifications on the side of character are not positive rather than negative, to say nothing of the recurrent cases where the influence of character is definitely iniquitous. It constitutes a menace always to some proportion of the children of the state in regard to which action cannot be taken, either by the Department of Public Instruction or by other agency, until the matter reaches proportions which bring it within the purview of the criminal courts.

State Department of Instruction not criticised.—As at other points where strong commendation can be given, the conditions in regard to mental attainments of teachers in the elementary and secondary school system are as good as they are because of the unceasing and intelligent exertion of moral influence on the part of the superintendent of public instruction and his aids, rather than because of any inevitable result of the working of a thoughtfully conceived and properly organized system in which the state assumed large responsibility and to which it delegated due authority.

Misfortune of lack of prescribed qualifications for teachers.—There are few states which do not require teachers to prove qualifications for their work before being allowed to accept employment, but New Hampshire does not! This state is punctilious in regard to the qualifications of those who undertake to practice their profession of care for our physical condition, but has no required qualifications for those who would care for the mental and moral development of our youth. Neither certification nor examination is required, and at will school boards may employ ignorant, diseased, or immoral persons as teachers, and some do! The fact that the great majority of the children of the state are not subjected to the dangers of such a condition in no way precludes their being harmed eventually by the fact that other children of the state are likely at any time to be exposed to influences of those thus incompetent or worse. Fulfillment of the state's responsibility for such conditions is not accomplished by a condition in which a majority, or even a large proportion, of the children of the state are adequately cared for. The standard of the state should be established, and any child within the state, whether residing in one of its municipalities, its farming towns, its lumbering sections, or its industrial villages, should be assured by the state of education of like quality with that afforded any other child of the state, in so far as this is humanly possible.

Centralizing of control in state all-important.—This can only be accomplished by the defining of educational principles, the organization of educational system, and the delegating of authority in such distinct way that the state can insure a large common denominator of educational welfare to any child within its boundaries.

State responsibility greatest in least prosperous sections.—In many ways the responsibility of the state is more distinct in communities less prosperous than elsewhere, because for these wards of the state less provision will be made, except as the state does assume the responsibility of making adequate provision.

Not simply educational question.—This whole question is not simply an educational question, it is economic and has to do likewise with the development of resources within the state in communities removed from the centers of population, and it has to do as well with the utilization of the state's agricultural resources in its less productive regions.

Sufficient supervision is lacking.—No state in New England makes legal requirement of so little in the way of supervision in its schools, and in no state of this section of the country is the village or town left so free to ignore its school responsibilities, from whatever motive this tendency arises in the occasional community.

No prescribed number of weeks a year that schools must be open.—Furthermore, there is not even the elementary requirement of a prescribed number of weeks in which children of the state shall be afforded educational facilities. Incompetent school boards are at liberty to shorten the school year in certain sections to a minimum within which reasonable work is impossible. It is a generally accepted standard of the present day that from thirty-four to thirty-six weeks is the minimum in which work of consequence can be done in the public school system, and yet, for the purpose of saving taxation or for other motives less intelligible, the school year runs as low in one town as sixteen weeks, and in other towns as low as twenty weeks. Such unfortunate conditions would, of course, be impossible if the state had sufficiently recognized its problem and its obligation in this matter.

Accomplishment of State Department of Instruction to be highly commended.—It is our desire to be certain that in these comments we seem in no way to be reflecting on the accomplishments of the Department of Public Instruction. On the contrary, it is due to the competence of the successive superintendents of public instruction and their able assistants that conditions in the state are not far more open to criticism than they are. The work of the Department of Public Instruction has been done in large measure by the sheer influence of an able personnel intelligently directing its efforts, and has not been due to a continuous and systematic attempt on the part of the state to devise and to maintain a system of education worthy of the good name of New Hampshire.

Purpose of report simply to cite general conditions of state responsibility.—If substantiation is desired for any of the statements of this report, it can be afforded, but the purpose of the report is not to go into detail or to catalogue specific instances, but rather to draw attention to the general fact that the public school system of New Hampshire, instead of being the subject of particular and specific solicitude on the part of the state, has lacked both the support and the interest by which alone it can be put into accord with the needs of the time.

II.

REMEDIES SUGGESTED.

The defects set forth in Part I of this report may be summarized as follows:

1. No other state in New England is so lax in enforcing recognition of school responsibilities.

2. There is no power lodged in any official or officials sufficient to insure proper administration of schools or to establish and maintain proper educational standards.

3. Supervision of schools and teachers is optional and lacking where most needed.

4. No authority exists either to guarantee conditions necessary to the health of pupils or secure attention to easily remedied physical defects.

5. Educational opportunity is neither equal nor universal.

6. There is no standard school year nor annual minimum of work required of pupils by the state.

7. There are no provisions for schools in the unorganized parts of the state.

8. There are no compulsory evening schools, though according to the census of 1910, 26,783 of the population of the state cannot use the English language, to say nothing of our native born illiterates.

The state must provide educational opportunities and enforce their use.—A common language and ability on the part of citizens to think intelligently are essential to the existence of free institutions, consequently the state should not only provide adequate educational opportunity for everyone who resides within its boundaries, but also see to it that those for whose benefit such opportunity is provided make the best possible use of it.

Ultimate authority vested in a board of education, composition of such board.—The realization of an approach to this ideal is impossible under our present school laws. The plan for improving present conditions which appeals to the committee is a modification of that now in use in Vermont. The theory this plan is intended to effectuate is that such a public school system as the state needs cannot be effectively administered without the exercise of large powers. Such powers cannot wisely be given to a single official nor to a body composed exclusively of persons occupying educational posts and subject to the blinding influence of special theories of education. If this view of the matter is sound, the necessary power should be given to a board composed of practical citizens of wisdom and prudence who, while possessing such knowledge of educational matters as will enable them to arbitrate questions of educational principles and policy with good judgment and sagacity, can be trusted at the same time to steer clear of the vagaries and extravagancies inherent in many educational theories. In short, there should be a governing board composed of practical persons and an executive department composed of educational experts; for while our schools must be carried on under expert direction, this direction should be exercised with due consideration for prevailing economic and social conditions and in such a way as to exclude costly educational experiments. The governing board should be a small one. In many states it consists of five public spirited citizens who serve without pay.

General powers of board.—The board should have power to establish an educational policy for all the public schools in the state and such general powers over the administration of the public schools as the directors of the ordinary business corporation have over its corporate affairs. It should have power to appoint its executive officers including the commissioner of education, the deputy commissioners and inspectors and to remove them or officers and employees of a school district whenever it finds that that will be for the best interest of the public schools.

Duties of commissioner of education.—The board, acting through the commissioner of education, should especially assume the responsibilities devolving upon the superintendent of public instruction, upon the trustees of the state normal schools and upon the state board of vocational education and know their respective powers, and in addition thereto (a) prescribe the duties and qualifications of all teachers employed in the public schools; (b) prescribe a minimum curriculum for the use of such schools; and (c) make all rules and regulations necessary for the conduct of its officers and the efficient administration of the public schools.

Supervision and administration of supervisory districts.—It seems to the committee that the best way to provide state-wide supervision of the work of the teachers and the health of the pupils in the public schools is to authorize the board acting through its executive officers (a) to divide the state into supervisory districts composed of one or more school districts so arranged or located as to make the work of supervision as convenient and economical as possible and as nearly equal as may be; and (b) to standardize the qualifications of superintendents and medical inspectors. The expense of proper supervision will be greater per pupil in the sparsely settled parts of the state than in the cities and large villages, but proper supervision is at least as necessary in such places as in the more thickly settled parts of the state. It follows that if taxation is to be equal as well as educational opportunity, the state as a whole must bear a part, at least, of the expense of supervision in all parts of the state. For example, if equality is the rule, proper supervision should not cost Hart's Location more per pupil than the city of Manchester. Equality of taxation would be roughly approximated in either one of two ways, viz.:

(1) By requiring each school district in the state to pay into the state treasury a sum equal to $4 for each pupil residing in the district who is enrolled in the public schools on, say, the first day of October of each year as its share of the expense, and assessing and raising the balance of the money as a part of the state tax.

(2) By raising all of the money necessary for the purpose as a part of the state tax.

Other advantages of the plan.—Educational opportunity cannot be equal and universal unless the state assumes the expense incident to state-wide supervision. This course would ensure better superintendents and, in consequence, more efficient schools.

Length of school year and evening schools.—If educational opportunity is to be equal and universal, every district in the state should provide standard schools in charge of approved teachers for at least thirty-six weeks in each year; and every district in which reside five or more persons less than twenty-one years old who cannot speak and write English understandingly, should provide evening schools as a part of its public school system for such time in each year as the state board may prescribe. If we are ever to be a community using a common language and with a large body of common ideals attendance at such schools should be compulsory.

Provision for cost of schools.—It would be impossible for the districts most in need of better educational opportunity to bear the expense incident to providing these schools without unduly heavy taxation; but a tax of five mills levied on all taxable property in the district, together with the money it now receives from the state, would be adequate for that purpose in a large majority of the districts. Such a tax is about 40 per cent larger than that required by the law now in force, but is not as great as that which most cities and many towns now levy for the support of schools. It would largely increase the money available for the support of the public schools in very many districts, without imposing an economical handicap on a small district which wishes to provide reasonably sufficient schools. In other words, such a tax would furnish a considerable amount of money for the support of schools in every school district in the state, in a large majority of them enough to provide standard schools for thirty-six weeks in the year, as well as evening schools. In those districts in which the money thus raised is insufficient, the balance needed to provide such schools should be furnished by the state. In such districts all the money available for school purposes should be expended under the supervision of the state.

Schools in unorganized parts of the state.—In the unorganized parts of the state, the board should provide standard schools, or place the children of school age in suitable schools in neighboring towns and provide board for them at the expense of the state. Part of the money needed for this purpose should be raised by imposing a five-mill tax on the taxable property in such places.

Districts may board pupils instead of transporting them.—The board should have power in exceptional cases, to authorize for transportation of pupils, the use of more than 25 per cent of the school money; and districts should be authorized to provide board for pupils near the schools to which they are assigned when that is the reasonable thing to do. The law should also be so amended as to make it certain that by elementary schools, as that term is used in the laws of this state, all schools below the ninth grade are intended.

A sound and universally applied system of education a vital necessity of the present day.—The responsibility for the education of our people is not one to be taken lightly or thrown upon the chance of a penny-wise policy dictated by present convenience. At no period in modern times has the future shown a more sphynx-like face. Before the new and mighty influences at work in the world all powers of prophecy fail. No man can forecast the conditions on which the problems of tomorrow will depend, but we may be sure that they will be widely different from those in which the present generation has grown up. The one bulwark that can be raised in advance against the sudden rush of unforeseen peril is a sound and universally applied system of education for the average man. For this the state should provide before the storm breaks.

This report is submitted by your committee with a high sense of their responsibility for advising a radical change in the system of control and management of our public schools, but they believe that the educational interest of the state will be greatly served by the changes here suggested.

We should not forget that our school children are legally, socially and economically wards of the state, and that the responsibility of the state cannot be fully satisfied unless for every child it provides instruction by competent teachers, under expert supervision, in wholesome school buildings and for full school years. The foregoing report shows that our present system falls far short of such a standard.

Your committee fully realize that the adoption of the changes herein advised will cost the state something more than is now being spent, but they unanimously believe that a betterment of our public educational facilities, especially outside of the cities and larger towns, is not only desirable but essential if the state is to satisfy its responsibilities.

IN CONVENTION.

The Honorable Senate then came in, and the two branches being in convention, His Excellency, the Governor, appeared and delivered the following message:

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR.

Senators and Representatives:

I am in a state of daily uncertainty and embarrassment as to my duties under existing law. You will pardon me if I again so soon come to you for conference. I wish you would treat this not as a special message, but as an open conference with you all, just as I would like to do with each one privately if I had time. We are here honestly studying together for the welfare of the state. Although my inaugural address was very long, you will bear in mind that this is a reconstruction legislature and we must take time to get to the bottom of all our vital interests. Feeling that many may not fully understand the facts which surround one of the most vital of my recommendations, nor the great importance of the principle involved, and, furthermore, keenly realizing more and more my inability to plan out my work as governor until I receive your action, and, again, desirous to prevent at the outset your misinterpretation of one recommendation made in brief in my inaugural, I desire to speak to you again and briefly on the one subject of restoring to the executive sufficient power and authority to enable him to perform the duties expected of him by the people.

Again I implore you to forget the personality, and have in mind only the office, for in this way only can we serve our state and our country. Again I ask you to believe me when I tell you I care naught for myself, but for the strength and dignity of the office, whoever may occupy it. If you desire the present incumbent only to be powerless I yield gracefully, but if anyone contends to strip the office and the people of power, and destroy responsive popular government then it is my duty to use all diligence to prevent it. Hence I desire to explain the one bill which effects nearly every dollar the state spends, and which determines whether the ultimate authority for all this shall be with the governor and council whom the people elect or with a commission whom they do not and cannot elect.

It is due to a desire to secure early action so that I may know what authority and duties I am going to have in season to appoint my committees and organize my work that I give you these further facts.

The details of the bill in question are far less important than the principle. Let us not forget for a moment, in these days when men are dying for democracy, that the surest way to invite war is to scheme to prevent responsive popular government. You strip the people of the right to govern themselves when you tie the hands of the executive officers whom they vote for and elect. Why do they vote at all? What good is it to the people to have a right to vote? What can the people accomplish if their executive, when chosen, whoever he may be, is snared in by a network of commission-government which he cannot direct or supervise in the least? It would require a two hours' lecture on one commission to explain in detail all the tremendous power and intricacies by which it almost completely circumvents popular government, and also establishes a dangerous and mighty power which the people can never reach except by the very process of legislation which I am now invoking.

It differs from all other commissions which we have in the highest degree. It is larger in the amount of money expended by it than all other departments and commissions combined. In fact, its power reaches over all the other commissions and departments because it does the buying of the whole state. This board of trustees (and not the governor and council) now has the power to hire and discharge the man who does all our buying for the great highway department. In other words, the highway department has to go to the employee of the trustees of institutions in order to make its purchases. The purchasing agent, so-called, is their employee, and he is simply an employee. He can be discharged at any moment without the approval of the governor and council or even against the protests of the governor and council. The purchasing agent is not only the direct employee of the institutions-commission, but the manner in which he shall make his purchases is solely governed by them. The law itself does not compel him to purchase by competitive bidding. His superiors, the trustees, control all that. Therefore, all the money of the state which has to be spent in a manner involving any policy, discretion or judgment comes under the, so-called trustees. If the governor and council, for instance, should think it wise to have any purchases looked into, if they thought certain or all bids should be opened before them, if they thought bids should be called for when they were not, if they suspected collusion, in short, if they had any ideas of policies with reference to the spending of nearly $2,000,000 of the state's money annually, they have no power to give a single order or to make a single move.

Can anyone tell me why the purchasing agent for all the departments, including the highway department, the various small departments, and even the governor's office, in short for the whole state, should be a subordinate of that particular commission? The governor and council do not appoint him, nor supervise him at all. His only recognized superior is this board of trustees. And yet the purchasing agent does all the buying for the state, not only for the five great institutions, but for everyone else in every department. And he does it under such supervisions, rules, or practices as the trustees of the institutions (not the governor and council) provide for him. Whether he asks for bids, and whether he asks for bids in a fair manner, and opens them fairly, or whatever he does, he is not beholden in any way to the so-called chief executive of the state.

You may ask me here naturally enough, do I cast any suspicion by this argument. I answer, "no," I do not, I am merely showing to you who the real governor of the state is, as the laws now fix the power.

And I have not yet told you all. Did you know that all the state's printing, which is an enormous bill, was put into the hands of these trustees of state institutions also, and the printing commission abolished? What logical connection pray, has printing these bills for this legislature, printing the reports of the various departments, printing the stationery on our desks, printing the laws, and all that sort of thing, with the care of the insane, the care of the feeble-minded, and such like things? It is not a trusteeship of state institutions merely, but practically a commission over everything so far as it could possibly be made to cover, leaving nothing for the governor and council. Its very size is dangerous. They are, therefore, not only trustees of the state institutions but far more than that. Their power reaches to nearly every dollar we spend.

I believe in a central purchasing office, and the bill before you provides for one, but with more restrictions than the present law; and my supreme point and principle is that such purchasing agent should be responsible, not to one of the various departments, but the president and directors of the corporation, in other words, to the governor and council. Bear in mind, always, that the trustees of state institutions are not supervised by the governor nor anyone else. When you trace authority to them the authority stops. There is no appeal from them. They are the supreme court of expenditure in the state. They can even buy and sell institutional real estate and erect buildings, and they really have.

If the governor does not attend a meeting the purchasing agent could be discharged without his even knowing it, and likewise the superintendents of the institutions, and all without notice. Now, such power is too much to give anyone, even the governor and council, in my opinion. And yet the trustees of state institutions have it this very minute.

They may not exercise it. They quite likely would not exercise it, but they hold that power over them. If a conflict of opinion comes, as it is bound to come, sooner or later, the governor and council must yield. They are subordinate in power to the trustees of state institutions.

If serious complaints come to my office involving things which might be vital to the success of my administration with reference to these institutions, with reference to the printing, or with reference to the buying for all institutions and departments, what can I do? Suppose troubles do come and some things have come to me already, what can I do? Well, I can take the complaint to some meeting of the trustees when they gather once each week, and lay the matter before them. The chairman may give me a ruling then, or he may put it to a vote then or later. If I follow it up, I can have the privilege of casting one little solitary vote in six. Meanwhile five as strong men as there are in the state who can get the approval of the people are patiently waiting upstairs to see what the news is. Do you want your governor and council humiliated like that?

I desire to study into the affairs of these institutions. I desire to know what the state ought to do. I desire to see if we can work out some economy. But, whatever I may desire, as your chief executive earnestly striving to benefit the state, and giving every minute of my time to the state, I cannot act with any authority. This matter is far-reaching. It is not a small matter which I have mentioned, like some small department. The whole state is either bundled up, or snarled up, in this department by some of the numerous laws. This board of trustees has today far more power than your chief executives, and yet your people look to the chief executive for results. And when I say this I do not refer to the individuals. I refer to the law, and to the law alone, because we must follow the law, regardless of persons. Men come and go but the law remains unless you change it.

The governor is a subordinate on the board with only one vote in six, with no check and no veto power. You will see that they are given an extraordinary prerogative, even greater than the legislature itself, for our constitution gives the governor a veto power over even such a popular body as our New Hampshire legislature. This commission or board of trustees have the power to make all sorts of rules and regulations with reference to these institutions, and the purchasing agent and the state printing, and with reference to buying for all the departments of the state, even to dispensing with competitive bidding, and yet there is no veto power anywhere over them.

Under the present law the trustees' employee, the purchasing agent, has $100,000 on hand as a working capital, which he pays out without even the governor's warrant. This may or may not be necessary. Massachusetts does not do it.

All this leads us naturally to the matter of a remedy for the violation of the fundamental principle of government by the people, and the secondary principle of placing the authority where you place the responsibility, for I am sure you must recognize these principles.

Now, my idea of a remedy, is contained generally in the bill before you. But for the principle only do I contend, although the details have been carefully studied.

To subordinate one board of six members to another board of six members is impracticable. Each member gets $8 per day on each board and a saving of about $5,000 per year would be effected by cutting out one board. The governor and council would have to meet no oftener if they directed the heads of the state institutions. The councilors, through the legislative time, meet with the governor every day. We get something every morning about the institutions. We have to pass it over as beyond our powers. The very system keeps, and tends to keep, us ignorant of the welfare of these institutions.

The present law provides that the trustees must meet once each week. They meet on Fridays, according to a notice which I received from their secretary. They travel here to meet and that makes an additional item for travel and expense. They do not do detail work in these institutions. They just give general directions to managers and heads in precisely the same manner that the governor and council would do.

Here lies the turning point in our reasoning that they could not be subordinated to the governor and council profitably. They are not experts, a reason which justifies a bank commission or an insurance commission. They do not put their whole time into the work, a reason which justifies some commissions. They are doing the same general work as a governor and council are required to do. To have one board of six tell another board of six, meeting once a week, to tell a purchasing agent to offer bids, for instance, would be awkward, impracticable and expensive. Hence, I cannot recommend that you amend the law by subordinating the trustees to the governor and council. No one would ever do that in his own business. The governor is on the job all the time. The chairman of the board cannot be. But, of course, someone must be provided to carry out the general policies of the governor and council and act under their supervision, just as someone is now provided to carry out the policies of these trustees. Now, they have a person who is called a purchasing agent. He is the head man in the office in this building. He has assistants, a regular office force. I do not desire to change this at all so far as the persons are concerned, and so far as my information now goes. The system prevents my knowing whether changes are desirable or not. They are not beholden to the governor at all, but I assure you I have no thought of any changes in the working management of the office of the institutions, or in the office forces of each institution. I say this that no one need fear any change, or oppose this bill with such fear. In fact, the bill before you makes the purchasing agent (which it calls an "executive manager") a real position with an appointment for three years instead of a mere hired man, dischargeable at will, as now.

He is required to give bonds, and to buy by competitive bidding, which is not now required by the law. And he is also required and authorized to pass upon the reasonableness and necessity of the requisitions which come to him from the various departments, or refer it to the governor and council.

He is made a "general manager" to carry out the directions and policies of the governor and council.

My plan would be to appoint the best adapted councilors to supervise his work, and for the governor, himself, to keep an eye on the whole system. This, you will see, gives a complete system, from the executive down, and makes no changes except to transfer the ultimate authority from the trustees to the governor and council who are the ones whom the people hold responsible, and whose acts constitute government by the people. The heads of the different institutions have to do the real detail management under any system. This is not to be changed at all.

Now, in order to carry the experiences of one administration over into another, you have, under the proposed bill, the manager appointed for three years (or five, if you so think); you have also the customary permanency of the executive heads of each institution.

The governor and council are more or less new. That is a newness which the principle of democracy insists upon. There is as much good as evil in newness in governmental management. There is more danger than blessing in permanency when you have in hand the question of spending $2,000,000 of the people's money. The difference between "autocracy" and "democracy" consists very materially in the fact that one changes its leaders while the other does not. A permanent commission to spend large sums of money is not a wise policy. Again, I repeat, that whatever losses there are which come from a governor and council being a little green to the business are more than offset by the dangers that come from allowing to take permanent root a system which the people never can reach to correct.

But, most men who reach the governor's chair have some knowledge of state affairs, and the state would not suffer much from their newness; and most councilors who reach that exalted position are men of quality, and know New Hampshire pretty well. Councilors are among the best men the state has had. The governor and council are as apt to be above politics as commissioners.

However, in addition to all this, we have advised a bill which not only supplies the idea of continuity and permanency, but also carries to these institutions the soul and sympathy of the state which they had under the old form of a board of trustees for each institution.

The bill provides for a board of advisers for each institution who serve without pay. They would be of great help to a new governor in finding out just how things are with each institution immediately upon taking office. They could assist him and the state in many ways. I would put on such boards people especially interested in, and versed in, the particular institution, for instance, some of the old trustees that have been legislated out of office, two, or four, or six years ago.

I would be entirely willing to put on such boards the present trustees, so far as I now know. There is nothing personal in my recommendations. Two years ago, ten trustees were legislated out, without debate, and the printing commission was legislated out without debate. Two years before that, ten trustees were legislated out. And two years before that, large boards of several trustees were legislated out.

Let us now find some principle to go by and stick to it. The unpaid boards of trustees is a good idea in the old system which we can retain, or rather renew. The central purchasing power is a good idea of the new which we can retain. Combining these, and restoring the ultimate power to the executive, you will have a system which will be right and ought to last.

If things are running well, why change, someone might ask. The answer is, that the executives of the state, under the present system do not know whether they are running well or not. We are shut out. I can say no more now. I believe the people have sent me here to find out, not by courtesy, but by authority and by right.

Again, let me say that when this bill passes there will not be the slightest jar. Every wheel of machinery will go on just exactly as before, every clerk will keep working, every inmate will stay where he is and every detail will go on; no one will know there is a change in ultimate power, provided things are right.

But, above all, let me repeat, in conclusion, that now we have a system that strips the executive of power, and consequently the people of power. This is a reconstruction time. We have been fighting for democracy, and our boys have been dying to preserve government by the people. It is just the time to see that we have democracy at home, to unshackle the hands of the men whom the people have sent here to manage our state, and to say in no uncertain tones that an election in New Hampshire means something, because an election is a farce if the man whom the people send here, is tied, hand and foot.

Men have fought for just such a principle as this. The people believe that this evil exists and such a belief tends to make men careless of government and dangerous citizens. Let us be square with the people and give them the men they elect. Then, they will better follow our leadership in safe and sane things.

This bill is not only a saving of money to the state, but is a saving of a principle to the people. It effects my work so vitally and completely that reasonably prompt action is for the public good.

Following the delivery of the message of His Excellency the Governor, on motion of Senator Horan of District No. 18, the Convention rose.

RULES OF THE HOUSE.

OF THE DUTY OF THE SPEAKER.

1. The Speaker shall take the chair at precisely the hour to which the House shall have adjourned, and shall immediately call the members to order.

2. He shall preserve decorum and order, may speak on points of order in preference to other members, rising from his seat for that purpose, and shall decide questions of order, subject to an appeal to the House by any two members.

3. Questions shall be distinctly put in this form, to wit: "As many as are of opinion that (as the case may be) say aye;" and after the affirmative vote is expressed, "Those of a contrary opinion say No." If the Speaker doubts or a division is called for, the House shall divide. Those in the affirmative of the question shall first rise from their seats and shall stand till they be counted, and afterwards those in the negative shall rise and stand till they be counted. The Speaker shall then rise and state the decision of the House.

4. He shall rise to put a question, but may state it sitting.

5. All committees shall be appointed by the Speaker unless otherwise directed by the House.

6. The Speaker shall designate to which of the standing committees all memorials, petitions, accounts, or other matters shall be referred, unless otherwise ordered by the House.

7. The Speaker shall not be called upon to vote unless the House be equally divided, or unless his vote, if given to the minority, will make the division equal; and in case of such equal division the question shall be lost.

8. All acts, addresses, and joint resolutions shall be assigned by the Speaker; and all writs, warrants or subpoenas, issued by order of the House, shall be under his hand and seal attested by the clerk.

9. In case of any disturbance or disorderly conduct in the galleries, the Speaker or chairman of the committee of the whole House shall have the power to order the same to be cleared.

10. No person but the members and officers of the House, members of the council, and members of the Senate, the secretary of the state, treasurer, and clerks of the Senate shall be admitted within the door of the Representatives' chamber unless by invitation of the Speaker, or some member of the House with the consent of the Speaker, except in public hearings, parties, their counsel and witnesses, under the direction of the Speaker.

11. The Speaker shall have power to substitute any member to perform the duties of the chair, such substitution not to extend beyond one legislative day.

OF DECORUM AND DEBATE.

12. When any member is about to speak in debate, make a motion, or deliver any matter to the House, he shall rise from his seat and respectfully address himself to the Speaker.

13. If any member transgress the rules of the House, the Speaker shall, or any member may, call him to order; in which case the member so called to order shall immediately sit down, and the question of order shall then be distinctly stated from the chair; and in all cases where a member shall be called to order for uttering disrespectful words, upon the request of any member the words objected to shall be reduced to writing by the member so calling to order; after which the member so called to order may explain, and the question shall be open to debate, as in other cases, and decided by the Speaker, whose decision shall be submitted to unless an appeal be made to the House, by a member, in which case the only question shall be, "Is the Speaker's decision correct?" which shall be decided without debate. If the decision be in favor of the member called to order, he may proceed; if otherwise, and the case may require it, he shall be liable to the censure of the House.

14. In all cases the member first rising shall speak first. When two members rise at the same time, the Speaker shall name the person to speak.

15. No member shall speak more than twice on the same question without leave of the House; nor more than once until every member choosing to speak shall have spoken.

16. While the Speaker is putting any question, or addressing the House, no one shall walk out of or across the House; nor in such case, or when a member is speaking, shall entertain private discourse; nor, while a member is speaking shall pass between him and the chair; nor shall any member leave his seat while the yeas and nays are calling.

17. No member shall vote on any question in the event of which he is directly interested; nor in any case where he was not present when the question was put; nor sit upon any committee when he is directly interested in the question under consideration. In case of such interest of a member of a committee, the fact shall be reported to the House, and another person substituted on that question in his place.

18. Every member who shall be in the House when a question is put shall give his vote, unless the House, for special reason, shall excuse him.

19. No motion shall be debated until the same shall be seconded and stated from the chair; and when a motion shall be made and seconded, it shall be reduced to writing, if desired by the Speaker or any member, and delivered at the table, and read by the Speaker, before the same shall be debated.

20. No petition shall be received by the House unless it be presented by a member thereof, nor until the substance of said petition be concisely minuted, and the name of the member, and the town he represents, recorded upon the back thereof; and it shall be the duty of the Speaker to state, in the first place, the substance of the petition as minuted on the back thereof.

21. After a motion is stated by the Speaker, it shall be in possession of the House, but may be withdrawn at any time before an amendment.

22. When any question is under debate, no motion shall be received, but first, to adjourn; second, to lay on the table; third, for the previous question; fourth, to postpone indefinitely; fifth, to postpone to a certain day; sixth, to commit; seventh, to amend; which several motions shall have precedence in the order in which they are arranged. Motions to adjourn, to lay on the table, for the previous question, and to take from the table, shall be decided without debate.

23. The Speaker shall put the previous question in the following form: "Shall the main question now be put?" and all debate upon the main question shall be suspended until the previous question has been decided. After the adoption of the previous question, the sense of the House shall forthwith be taken upon pending amendments, in their regular order, and then upon the main question. The motion for the previous question shall not be put unless demanded by three members.

24. All incidental questions of order arising after a motion for the previous question and related to the subjects affected by the order of the previous question shall be decided without debate.

25. If the previous question is decided in the negative, it shall not be again in order until after adjournment, but the main question shall be left before the House and disposed of as though the previous question had not been put.

26. When a question is postponed indefinitely, the same shall not be acted upon during the session except by unanimous consent.

27. Any member may call for a division of the question when the sense will admit of it; and upon a motion to amend, a refusal to strike out words shall neither preclude amendment to such words nor a motion to strike out and insert.

28. A motion for commitment, until it is decided, shall preclude all amendments to the main question, and all motions and reports may be committed at the pleasure of the House.

29. No new motion shall be admitted, under color of amendment, as a substitute for the motion under debate.

30. No vote shall be reconsidered, unless the motion for reconsideration be made by a member who voted with the majority, nor unless the notice of such motion be given on the same day on which the vote passed, or on the next day on which the House shall be in session, between the hours of 10 and 12 o'clock.

31. When the reading of a paper is called for and objected to by any member it shall be determined by a vote of the House.

32. Any member may excuse himself from serving on any committee at the time of his appointment, if he is then a member of two other committees which have not reported.

33. Each member shall seasonably and punctually attend to his duty in the House, and no one shall absent himself from the service of the House unless he have leave, or be sick and unable to attend.

34. The Speaker shall appoint a teller for each division of the House, whose duty it shall be to report to the chair the state of the vote, whenever a division of the House is called for.

OF COMMITTEES AND THEIR DUTIES.

35. The following standing committees shall be appointed early in the January session:

The Speaker shall take them up for introduction at the morning session.

41. Every bill and resolution originally introduced into the House shall be expressed in words clearly, so that it shall not be necessary to refer to any other act or statute to ascertain the meaning thereof.

The first reading shall be for information; and thereupon if it be not rejected or otherwise disposed of by the House, the question shall be, "Shall the bill be read a second time?" and if ordered to a second reading it shall immediately be read a second time by its title, be laid upon the table to be printed under Rule 46, and be by the Speaker referred to the appropriate standing committee, unless otherwise ordered by the House. 45. Every bill shall be marked on the first page "House bill," and every joint resolution shall be marked "House joint resolution," and each bill and resolution shall be reg-

Bills and joint resolutions received from the Senate shall be printed at the same stage of their procedure unless they have been printed in the Senate and copies distributed in the House.

47. When a bill or joint resolution is reported favorably with an amendment, the report of the committee shall state the amendment and then recite the section of the bill or resolution in full as amended. The bill or resolution, if the change is material, shall then be laid upon the table to be printed and distributed as required by rule 46 and when so printed and distributed the clerk shall, after one day, cause the same to be laid upon the Speaker's table, and it shall be taken up in order without motion and disposed of in the same manner as it would have been had it not been declared laid upon the table.

All bills or joint resolutions otherwise reported shall be laid upon the table and shall not be finally acted upon until the following legislative day, and a list of such bills or joint resolutions with the report thereon shall be published in the journal of proceedings for the day on which they were reported.

48. All bills and joint resolutions appropriating money, reported from any committee, shall be referred to the committee on appropriation for revision.

49. No standing rule or order of the House shall be rescinded without one day's notice being given of the motion therefor; nor suspended, unless by a vote therefor of two thirds of the members present.

OF THE COMMITTEE OF THE WHOLE HOUSE.

50. The House may resolve itself into committee of the whole House at any time, on the motion of a member made for that purpose; and in forming a committee of the whole House the Speaker shall leave the chair, and a chairman to preside in committee shall be appointed by the Speaker.

51. Upon bills and resolutions committed to a committee of the whole House, the bill or resolution shall first be read throughout by the clerk, and then again read and debated by clauses, leaving the preamble of the bill to be last considered; the body of the bill or resolution shall not be defaced or interlined, but all amendments, noting the page and line, shall be duly entered by the clerk on a separate paper, as the same shall be agreed to by the committee and so reported to the House. After report, the bill or resolution shall again be subject to be debated and amended by clauses before a question to pass it to a third reading be taken.

52. The rules of proceeding in the House shall be observed in committee of the whole House, so far as they may be applicable, except the rule limiting the time of speaking.

ORDER OF BUSINESS OF THE DAY.

53. The Speaker shall call for petitions from members of the House. The petitions having been presented and disposed of, reports first from the standing and then from the select committees shall be called for and disposed of. And the above business shall be done in no other part of the day, except by permission of the House.

54. The unfinished business in which the House was engaged at the last preceding adjournment, if called for by any member, shall have the preference over all other business except the general order of the day; and no motion, or any other business except the general order of the day, shall be received without special leave of the House, until the former is disposed of.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

The Honorable Secretary of State then appeared and laid before the House the report of the Committee on Celebration of Tercentenary Centennial of Landing of Pilgrims.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON CELEBRATION OF TERCENTENARY CENTENNIAL OF LANDING OF PILGRIMS.

Chapter 238 of the Laws of 1917, Approved March 27th, reads as follows:

“Joint resolution in regard to the three hundredth anniversary of the landing of the Pilgrims at Plymouth Rock.

“WHEREAS, The three hundredth anniversary of the landing of the Pilgrims at Plymouth Rock, in 1620, is now near at hand, and a proper and adequate celebration of that event, unsurpassed in importance in our American history, is eminently desirable, and

“WHEREAS, The New Hampshire board of trade, at its meeting in Exeter, in May, 1912, was the first organization to give formal public expression to the desirability of such observance, and

“WHEREAS, The legislature of Massachusetts has now under consideration sundry plans for the celebration of the event in question, along sentimental and patriotic as well as educational and industrial lines, some one of which, with or without change or modification, is likely to be adopted by said legislature before the close of the present session, and

“WHEREAS, New Hampshire, as well as every other New England state, is interested in the fitting and adequate observance of this great anniversary, and

“WHEREAS, Another session of this general court will not be held until January, 1919, and if New Hampshire is to perform a proper and worthy part in carrying out this celebration, it is manifestly necessary that some preliminary action be taken at this time, it is therefore, hereby “Resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives in General Court convened:

“That a committee of nine members be appointed by the governor, with advice and consent of the council, who shall take this matter into consideration, and, keeping in touch with the action of Massachusetts, and other states in relation thereto, shall report at the opening of the next session of the general court such plan of co-operative action on the part of the State of New Hampshire, as the situation and circumstances then developed shall in their judgment warrant, it being expressly provided that said committee shall serve without compensation, except for actual necessary expenses.”

Under this provision the governor with the advice and consent of the council appointed:

Charles S. Emerson, Milford; Henry H. Metcalf, Concord; Sherman E. Burroughs, Manchester; James F. Brennan, Peterborough; George B. Leighton, Dublin; William H. Sawyer, Concord; Henri T. Ledoux, Nashua; William F. Whitcher, Haverhill (since deceased); and Edwin H. Thomas, Farmington.

This committee organized by the selection of Charles S. Emerson, chairman, and James F. Brennan, clerk.

Owing to the participation of all our people in the Great War, matters were in abeyance until the signing of the armistice.

On January 8th, four members of the committee met Mr. Arthur Lord, chairman of Massachusetts Commission on Pilgrim Tercentenary Commission, and Mr. F. W. Stearns, member of the commission in Boston, and learned the plans and purposes of that commission, which contemplate certain improvements in the immediate location of the rock upon which the Pilgrims landed and the erection of memorial hall at Plymouth, a pageant reproducing events which led to the embarkation of the Pilgrims from Europe, their landing and hardships in the early years at Plymouth, the same to be reproduced on cineograph films for free distribution to the public schools of the whole country, an exhibition contrasting the life and industries of the Pilgrims following their landing with that of the present day, to be held in Boston, and such other features as might later develop.

It is anticipated that the national government will co-operate as well as some of the states, particularly those comprised in the New England group.

The early plans of a part at least of the Massachusetts Commission contemplated a great international exhibition participated in by the whole world following substantially the exhibition at San Francisco in 1915, Jamestown in 1907, St. Louis in 1904, Chicago in 1893, and others similar, but the war has absorbed the attention of all who would be interested and who would be expected to participate to so great an extent as to cause that plan to be dropped.

The improvements at Plymouth are necessarily in the nature of local affairs and mainly of interest to that immediate vicinity and to the state in which they are located, they have also interested some of the great patriotic societies of our country and some of the specific suggestions have been taken over by such societies as their own contribution to the great event, so that our state is not interested to so great an extent in these matters as in the proposed historical pageant with its contemplated wide dissemination through the public schools, and in the proposed exhibition in Boston to show the progress which has resulted both industrially and socially from the hardships and privations our forefathers were willing to endure for the benefit of all posterity.

Your committee are of opinion that New Hampshire, because of its proximity to the location, because of its early alliance as a part of Massachusetts, and because the first public declaration of the advisability and desirability of a fitting celebration came from the board of trade of our state, is more closely allied with the proposed celebration than is any state save Massachusetts alone.

In common with all the states, we received much more than most of us have ever realized from this band of Pilgrims who chanced and suffered so much that we might enjoy the great blessings which are such a part of our everyday life that we give them little heed, and it is not only eminently fitting but a part of our duty to bring to ourselves and to our children for all time to come some realizing sense of our benefits derived and the obligation to keep alive the things they suffered so much to establish.

The pageant is estimated to entail an expense of $100,000. The cost of the exhibition, if held, will depend upon its scope and size. Plans are not yet far enough advanced to provide a basis for estimate. The cost of exhibits of present day production would naturally fall in large measure, if not for the whole, upon those exhibiting, but the cost of exhibiting the early industries of the Pilgrims and tracing the development since, and the cost of reproducing in visible form the social conditions of their day, of the intervening time and of the present, would fall upon the public through their established governments, a part of the total expense would be returned in the way of admission fees to both, provided it were found advisable to make admission charges, as would likely be the case.

In view of the fact, that the date of the landing comes prior to another session of our legislature, whatever part we are to have in the celebrations must be provided at this present session.

In view of the unfortunate fact that plans are as yet still in process of development for reasons already stated, we are not able to make as specific recommendations as we would like to do and as under different circumstances, you would have right to expect.

We believe, however, that New Hampshire ought not to fail to participate in a fitting way in the proposed celebration; we therefore recommend that $25,000 be raised and appropriated to be expended in whole or in part for such participation as a committee to be appointed by the governor with the advice and consent of his council may appoint for the purpose, and with the further provision that such committee should before expending any part of this sum secure the approval of the governor and his council to such expenditure.

We submit as an appendix to this report a copy of the report of the Massachusetts Commission to the Massachusetts Legislature in 1917.

JAMES F. BRENNAN,
Clerk.

	Total specials for 1921.....		1,137,480.54
	Total specials for 1919.....		6,500.00
	Total specials asked for.....		$5,033,836.15

House Bill No. 210, "Toll bridge at Portsmouth," calls in section 1 for $500,000, and section 2 calls for 20 per cent of all funds or monies available to the use of the State of New Hampshire for all kinds of highway work, which would amount to $175,000 per year, in five years to $875,000. Perhaps I should have stated the appropriation as $500,000. That would make the total for specials $375,000 less. As the act takes effect upon its passage, the state might be called on the present year, 1919, for a portion of the appropriation.

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The Honorable Secretary of State then appeared and laid before the House the following report from the State Board of Health:

TUBERCULOSIS REPORT.

To His Excellency the Governor and the Honorable Council:

Chapter 133, Laws 1917, section 1, reads: "The State Board of Health is hereby authorized to investigate the extent, prevalence and distribution of tuberculosis in New Hampshire; to ascertain what provisions exist and what are required better to provide for indigent cases; what sanatoria and hospitals receive tuberculosis cases for treatment, and which do not, and to ascertain any other facts having a bearing upon the restriction and prevention of tuberculosis, and to report the facts with the conclusions and recommendations of the board to the legislature of 1919, and the governor is hereby authorized to draw his warrant for the actual reasonable expense incident to the carrying out of the provisions of this act."

In compliance with the foregoing law, the State Board of Health submits the following report.

CHARLES DUNCAN,
Secretary.

In presenting this report for the consideration of the legislature of 1919, the State Board of Health is mindful of the many other reports covering this subject which are already a matter for reference for all disposed to read them. The report of the state commission appointed in 1902, to consider the necessity of a state sanatorium; the yearly reports of the state sanatorium at Glencliff; the report of the Pembroke sanatorium; the report of the Manchester board of health; the report of the New Hampshire Medical Society, May, 1918, "Committee of Tuberculosis," published in the transactions of that society; the report of the State Board of Charities and Correction; the report of the trustees of public institutions; and the many reports and articles written in the Quarterly Bulletins and the reports of the State Board of Health during the past few years.

In considering information as to the extent, prevalence and distribution of tuberculosis, the State Board of Health has had resource to the registration of deaths from tuberculosis, and the registration of those sick from this disease, the latter being reported in accordance with the special law requiring physicians to report all cases of tuberculosis.

This report is, therefore, presented in two divisions:

First. The consideration of those who have died from the disease, which facts have a very definite value from which to draw scientific inferences. Second. Statistics founded on the registration of those sick with the disease do not have such definite value for our conclusions, yet they give facts and information that could be obtained in no other way.

DIAGRAM NO. 1.

That tuberculosis is to some extent controlled is evidenced by the fact that it has been decreased in a degree especially from 1884 to 1894, in New Hampshire, as it has been elsewhere. This has been due, undoubtedly, to a better understanding of the nature of the disease; the spreading of instructions on how to avoid infection by health authorities; improved environments of the laboring classes; better hygienic conditions in the home, food, ventilation, etc. However, it will be seen from the following table, that from 1912 to the present year little gain has been made in decreasing the number of deaths. To illustrate, the following chart is presented.

The solid black line in the chart represents the death-rate in New Hampshire from tuberculosis per 10,000 population for 34 years—1884 to 1917, inclusive. The dotted line represents the relation of the death-rate from tuberculosis to the total mortality for the same period.

(See original report on file in office of secretary of state.)

DIAGRAM NO. 2.

Diagram No. 2 shows proportion of deaths from tuberculosis (pulmonary consumption) to deaths from all other causes in New Hampshire between the ages of twenty and thirty years, for a period from 1884 to 1917. During this period there died in this state, from all causes between the ages of twenty to thirty, 14,739 persons, of whom 5,512 succumbed to pulmonary tuberculosis; or in other words, 37.39 per cent, or one to two and a fraction deaths were caused by tuberculosis.

(See original report on file in office of secretary of state.)

DIAGRAM NO. 3.

This diagram shows that no age is exempt from tuberculosis. From infancy to old age this disease finds its victims. While the mortality from consumption is very much greater during the age-period twenty to thirty, because the population of that period is greater, the individual liability to contract the disease is as great between the ages of seventy and eighty, and not very much less in some of the other age-periods—in fact, no age is exempt from this malady.

Mortality from tuberculosis to each 10,000 of the population of same age period in New Hampshire, for 34 years.

(See original report on file in office of secretary of state.)

DIAGRAM NO. 4.

Deaths from Pulmonary Tuberculosis in New Hampshire, 1884-1917, by Ages.

The following diagram shows the exact status of consumption, its ratio to other diseases and to age-periods. During the past 34 years, 1884-1917, a period in which our statistics are reliable, there have been returned 20,546 deaths from pulmonary tuberculosis—an astounding mortality from a communicable disease that is largely preventable.

It gives a graphic idea of the tremendous mortality from tuberculosis in men and women in the very prime of life, between the ages of twenty and forty years. This is a period when the economic loss to the state is something enormous, when a great productive force is cut down, women and children left destitute, and a legion of irreparable damages entailed.

(See original report on file in office of secretary of state.)

Two hundred and eighty-seven or over 68 per cent of those dying from consumption in 1916 were between the ages of twenty and fifty—at a time when the economic loss to the family and the state is enormous and often irreparable. Almost 50 per cent were adults between the ages of twenty and forty—a fearful mortality of those in the prime of life from the ravages of a preventable disease.

PREVALENCE OF TUBERCULOSIS IN NEW HAMPSHIRE.

The foregoing tables as to the mortality from tuberculosis, and the record of living cases reported to the State Board of Health give some information as to the prevalence and distribution of tuberculosis in this state.

Competent authorities state that the number of consumptives living in a community at any one time is ten times as many as those dying each year from the disease. This would give us a total of about 5,000 consumptives in our state. However, in those cities and states where public health surveys have been carried out, providing for universal physical examination, it has been found that at least two per cent of the population have tuberculosis in an active or inactive stage.

The great difficulty in learning the actual prevalence of tuberculosis is the inability of securing early diagnosis and registration.

The chief cause of the spread of the disease is direct contact from man to man, especially contact with the uncontrolled "open" or active case.

The consumptive is the source of the infection. In the discovery, supervision of and treatment of each and every one lies the solution of the control and suppression of the disease.

The principles underlying the control of tuberculosis are early diagnosis of all cases, supervision of all cases and treatment of all cases.

EARLY DIAGNOSIS.

Diagnosis is in the great majority of cases made too late for effective treatment. It is also too late for effective prevention of the spread of the disease. A consumptive may be spreading the infection for months before his disease is diagnosed and supervision begun. The majority of consumptives are poor and unable to secure expert examination. For these people two agencies are of the utmost importance for early diagnosis, viz., the tuberculosis dispensary or clinic providing expert examination and the visiting tuberculosis nurse providing instruction and supervision.

These agencies are the local centers which bring early diagnosis, instruction, supervision and treatment.

To secure ultimate control of all consumptives in our state, we must provide through our cities and towns a statewide system of dispensaries and visiting tuberculosis nurses.

SEGREGATION AND TREATMENT OF TUBERCULOSIS PATIENTS.

For Favorable Cases.

We have a state sanatorium located at Glenclyff. It has sixty-five beds. The demands have at all times exceeded the number of beds available. It has no infirmary facilities. It is not equipped to care for bed patients. It is unfair and detrimental to the other patients to try to treat bed cases in a large open ward. Many apparently favorable cases upon admission become professionally worse because of the nature of the disease in these particular cases. Many favorable cases have periods of fever, and need bed care. For both of these classes of patients, an infirmary building is needed. The state should at this session furnish such an infirmary building at Glencliff. It would also be of great assistance in that it would also be available for beds for advanced cases from various sections of the northern part of the state.

For Advanced Cases.

The advanced cases from the southern and the most populous part of the state would still be unprovided for.

It is inhumane and even impossible to remove a far-advanced consumptive far from his home and family. He will not go, nor will his family allow him to do so. He should not be allowed to die at home in the meantime infecting all his family and the community.

We must provide local hospitals for this class of patients. Either the state should establish such or should encourage the municipalities and counties to do so—the municipality or county establishing the sanatorium and the state subsidizing them by paying the cost of treatment. The state should encourage the establishment of such institutions by passing a law permitting the establishment of county sanatoriums for advanced cases, contingent upon a referendum vote in the county, if consistent with the New Hampshire law. At least fourteen states now have the county referendum law—the last state to approve this plan being Vermont in 1907.

The plan is for the state to pass a law permitting each county, or two, or even a group of counties together, to establish a sanatorium for the care and treatment of advanced consumptives. Then upon the petition of one hundred voters in the county the matter is voted upon by all the voters in the county. Upon an affirmative vote the county establishes the sanatorium, and the state subsidizes the institution by paying the cost of treatment per patient.

A plan of this kind providing for the encouragement of the establishment of local and county sanatoria serves the logical policy for the state to pursue for the treatment and care of its advanced consumptives.

For Tuberculous Children.

The demands for treatment and care of tuberculous and infected children are increasing each year. New Hampshire has as yet done practically nothing for her tuberculous and crippled children.

It is improper that children should be housed in the same wards with adults. It is necessary that provision should be made for the treatment and care of the tuberculous and crippled children of the state.

Direction of Tuberculosis Work.

The State Board of Health in co-operation with other agencies should direct all tuberculous work just the same as any other public health work. The legal authorities vested in the State Board of Health make it the logical body to effectively carry out the necessary means for prevention and treatment of the disease. The size of the tuberculosis problem, and the need for experience and study in solving it, make it advisable to establish a department of tuberculosis under the State Board of Health, to be in charge of a full time physician of experience in this work.

The large amount of study given to the tuberculosis problem because of the war has caused us to have larger conceptions as to the frequency of tuberculosis. More cases are being discovered, latent cases are developing into active disease, and many of our boys are returning from the training camps affected with tuberculosis.

There is every reason to believe that tuberculosis in this state, as elsewhere, can be controlled and ultimately suppressed. It needs, however, to be fought with adequate organization and equipment.

We recommend:

1. That additional facilities be provided at the state sanatorium at Glencliff. This can be secured by the addition of a much needed infirmary building.

2. That the state provide for the treatment and care of advanced consumptives by encouraging the establishment of local and county sanatoria through a permissive referendum law. If the referendum plan for securing of county sanatoria is not consistent with the New Hampshire laws, then the state should encourage the establishment of such institutions by some other means which would be equally effective in providing care and treatment for far advanced consumptives near the centers of population.

3. That the state provide funds for a tuberculosis division under the State Board of Health.

4. That the state encourage the establishment of local tuberculosis dispensaries and visiting nurses.

5. That the state provide treatment and care for indigent crippled and tuberculous children.

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The Honorable Secretary of State then appeared and laid before the House the following message from His Excellency the Governor:

Senators and Representatives:

In the matter of the so-called "Trustee bill," I heartily welcome all discussions, full and free discussions, of all public questions. I compliment your manifest desire to go carefully and studiously to the bottom of things.

In fact, the great danger of government is the lack of open public discussion in legislative halls.

Some of the points recently made in public discussion against the "trustee bill," and the things which followed them, seem to demand this message.

The present law of the state which is involved in this discussion does not now seem to be defended by anyone, although it was passed two years ago without any discussion whatsoever.

The fact that I was a member of the Judiciary Committee of the House at that time has been argued to you. That opens up a personal matter which I will not here answer.

It was with great care, and with ample publicity that I presented to the legislature several weeks ago the fact that the governor and council, under existing laws, were almost wholly cut off from the right of supervision of the finances of the state.

At that time as now, nearly all the supervision of the finances of the state comes under the power of the one board of paid "trustees." There has been constant discussion of this situation, in the press, in public addresses, and in conversation since that time.

During this period we have all been working together, comparing ideas and suggestions, seeking advice of experience, and have finally developed a bill which you have before you.

There may be those who do not believe in the principle involved in this bill. With such we cannot hope to agree.

I believe the issue of principle, however, is as fairly raised by the bill as it now stands, as it can be in any form.

The new proposals made in the most recent discussion violate the principle involved, as I view it.

Those who do not believe that councilors should have any voice or participation in assisting the governor in supervising the finances of the state cannot support the measure. That is one of the principles involved. The councilors are creatures of the people. They are provided for in our Constitution. The governor needs their assistance. He cannot supervise properly unless he has it. To cut off their power is equivalent to restricting his supervision.

The law now in force, practically speaking, makes five trustees take the place of five councilors. It makes the chairman, practically speaking, take the place of a governor.

Can anyone justify such an extreme piece of legislation? It is desirable to correct this wisely.

The draft of the bill now before you is the least you can do if we are to preserve the principle involved.

The bill now before you permits the governor to put each of his five councilors on one of the five boards of unpaid trustees of the five state institutions. It is now proposed to take even this right away from him, by an amendment.

This particular feature was the result of a compromise in which the governor probably surrendered too much, and, now, it is proposed to amend away the little which he did not surrender in compromise.

This compromise was worked out as follows: At first I felt that, with a good permanent business superintendent for each institution, it was possible and practicable for the governor and council, although coming into office somewhat inexperienced, to supervise these permanent managers in a general financial way.

You will recall that I advocated an unpaid board of visitors for each institution to assist in keeping the governor and council informed, and to carry the soul of the state to the inmates. This we formerly had for many years.

But I was urged, by those who had had experience, to give these visiting boards more power, to let them choose the superintendents subject to the approval of the governor and council, and to let them hold meetings monthly at each institution, and manage the same, subject to the general supervision of the governor and council, and to this I reluctantly agreed, with the proviso, however, that one member of the council should be on each board so that the governor could have available before him at every meeting of his council, one man, at least, who was in close touch with each institution. This was regarded by all as a happy compromise solution.

This arrangement seemed like a wise blending of the "permanency of a board" with the new incentive of new blood every two years representing the people. There are many who believe that this was too much of a concession, holding firmly that the governor and council should appoint the executive heads of the five great institutions.

Now, the new proposition is to take away from the governor even this little right to have one of his council on these boards, thus leaving him in total darkness as he was before.

The governor cannot supervise unless he can be put in a position to know what is going on all the time.

Another new proposal is to retain the present board of trustees. This cannot be done, and at the same time preserve the principles involved. In the nature of the case, their functions are supervisory in precisely the same manner as the governor and council are supervisory. They come from different parts of the state, meet about once a week in formal session just as the governor and council do. It is impossible for them to give any personal attention to so many institutions.

It is against public policy to put so much power, so many institutions, into one board who are not responsible to the people. It is too great a concentration of power in a permanent board. The people fear it.

Doctor Bancroft, and others, whose judgment I highly respect, give me the unanswerable argument that these five institutions are so widely different that they absolutely require, for good efficient management, trustees who are specially selected for each particular institution.

This feature of the bill I believe to be far more important than we at first realized. I was deeply impressed with the presentation to me of this phase of the bill by those who had had experience with the different institutions.

For instance, the Sanatorium for Consumptives should have on its board at least one physician who takes a special interest in tubercular cases. I think it should also have a woman on the board who can interest herself in the women of such an institution.

The School for Feeble-Minded Children has a very distinct field of work. It should have on its board some physician who is particularly skilled and versed in the diseases and limitations of these inmates. It should also have some woman on the board who can make herself felt from the standpoint of a woman upon that institution.

Again, the Hospital for the Insane is totally different from the Sanatorium for Consumptives. It should have on its board a man of experience and skill in that line. Such, for instance, as Doctor Bancroft himself, who can be of great assistance to the management. The hundreds of women in that institution should have a woman on the board of trustees to take an interest in them and to understand their peculiar situation.

Also, the children in the Industrial School at Manchester should have trustees who are particularly interested and particularly experienced in the needs and welfare of children of that sort.

And lastly, the criminals in our state prison, and the state prison itself require the study of men who are interested in that sort of thing; a far different requirement than any of the other institutions.

This is not radical. It was what we had in the state successfully for a great many years and it is what I am told these institutions and the inmates thereof have sadly felt the lack of for the last six years. Why should we not give it to them? Particularly so, when it is less expensive than the present method and when it does not concentrate so much power in one board.

I am satisfied that there are available from among our best citizenship, men and women, specially interested in each institution, who would be perfectly willing, and perhaps eager, to render this public service without pay.

Service based on public interest and public spirit is the best possible kind of service.

It is a good thing for the state, as a whole, to permit a goodly number of its citizens to participate, if only in a moderate way, in the government of the state.

The argument that a councillor should not be on these boards of trustees during his term only, because he gets $8 per day under the law for his services, is untenable.

There is a wise law that councilors shall not appoint themselves to any of the salaried positions in our state government, but this is not our case at all.

It is well known what that law means. It means that I could not appoint, for instance, one of the councilors to be insurance commissioner, because the councilor has a vote on his confirmation.

But when a councilor is sitting on one of those boards of trustees, he is familiarizing himself with the executive duties of the state and making himself very valuable and helpful to the governor. There is no reason why he should not get his usual pay for that work, but I have no doubt they would gladly forego the pay if you should deem that wise.

Again, I repeat, that we must constantly guard against building up too great power in permanent commissions not responsible to the people. The size of a commission, the size and extent of its powers are grave dangers. They are dangers because they are permanent, and because they have too much power to perpetuate themselves, and because the people cannot reach them.

Nearly all the arguments against the powers of a governor and council are arguments to get away from the people.

Trying to get away from the people is bad business in a democracy. It creates a current of distrust in government, gives birth to unrest among the people, and leads in the end to worse things. We must stabilize our country. To do this the people must be made to feel that they are governing themselves, and they must govern themselves.

As I said before, when you strip your elective officers of power, you strip the people of power.

Small unpaid boards of trustees are far safer for a state, than paid boards of large powers, because the latter are more difficult to change by legislation.

The five unpaid citizen boards of trustees will be adapted to the needs of each institution. The expense will be about one half the expense of one paid board. And what is of more importance is the humanitarian work which they will do in each institution which is not and cannot be done under the present system.

Again, I urge that this matter be not delayed because I cannot begin the necessary work of my administration until I get your decision.

And again I repeat, that I am putting this question wholly on principle and not on personality, and I ask you to do the same.

JOHN H. BARTLETT,
Governor.

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The Honorable Secretary of State then appeared and laid before the House the following message from His Excellency the Governor:

STATE OF NEW HAMPSHIRE.

EXECUTIVE CHAMBER.

CONCORD, March 6, 1919.

To Senators and Representatives:

Permit me to communicate to you herewith the attached letter from our two United States senators and congressmen with reference to the necessity of the State of New Hampshire and the State of Maine appropriating $500,000 for a memorial bridge at Portsmouth before they can hope for any success in securing assistance from the federal government.

This appropriation, as the redraft of the bill now pending provides, should be by a bond issue running over a period of at least twenty years for the reason that the proposed bridge will solve the highway problem between the states for all time and it is just and equitable that the future should bear a considerable portion of the expense. As this letter indicates, and as the bill now pending is drawn, the appropriation should not be made contingent upon any assistance being received from the federal government for the reason that if we fail to obtain any assistance from the federal government, it is possible that a memorial bridge can be built by the two states alone with an appropriation of $500,000 by each state. Such a bridge would have to be built at a less desirable point on the river and of cheaper construction and would be less serviceable and perhaps not serviceable at all to the federal government. But such a bridge as the two states could build with an appropriation of $500,000 each would end the payment of toll, would furnish a free access from one state to the other and would be a suitable memorial to the soldier and sailor dead. If we are to memorialize our heroes, we must do it now.

While it is confidently believed that the federal government will appropriate a sum which will make it possible to build a better bridge than could otherwise be built and to build it at a place across the river and of a construction which would also serve the purposes of the federal government, nevertheless, should the federal government fail us, we should not on that account fail to go ahead and build such bridge and such a memorial as the joint appropriation of the two states alone will make possible.

This matter has been gone into thoroughly by the interstate commission and this point is strongly endorsed in the attached letter from our two senators and congressmen.

I can only assure you that so far as your executive is concerned, no contract will be made and no arrangement entered into by which the state will become liable for anything more than the $500,000 appropriated in the bill now pending.

Under any set of conditions which may arise the full amount of $500,000 would have to be appropriated by the state, but I believe it is equitable that the local communities on each side of the river should bear the expense of land damages for approaches and straightening of streets. On the Portsmouth side this will amount to a large sum of money and I am informed that the city expects to do that as its portion and is taking steps to do it.

A bill practically identical in form to the bill now pending in this legislature passed both branches of the State of Maine legislature yesterday and is now awaiting the signature of the governor.

The letter from our two United States senators and congressmen follows:

“WASHINGTON, D. C., 4 March, 1919.

“DEAR GOVERNOR BARTLETT:—Congress adjourned today at noon without action upon the Naval Appropriation Bill in which we had hoped to insert an item carrying a federal appropriation of from $500,000 to $800,000 to aid in the construction of the proposed interstate highway bridge between New Hampshire and Maine. The failure of the Senate to consider the bill in any stage prevented us from undertaking any action in the line of our hopes—and the whole subject is therefore open for concerted, and, as we believe, successful action at the approaching extra session of the 66th Congress which is sure to be called prior to June 30.

“In that Congress there will be a reorganization of the committees in both Houses, owing to the change in political control which took place at the last election, and we have every reason to believe that the chairmen and the majority of the membership—both Republican and Democratic—in the Naval Affairs Committees in both branches of Congress, will be found sympathetic and responsive to our request.

“We are glad to be able to say that the interest of the secretary of the navy in this project, of which you are already fully aware, and which he has manifested in every possible way—continues unabated; and we may continue to count upon his co-operation in any proper manner which the friends of the proposed bridge may indicate to him. In this connection, we are led to believe that there is a growing opinion in naval circles generally, which have to do with the Navy Yard at Portsmouth, to the effect that this bridge is not only desirable but substantially necessary for the successful continuance of the enlarged work at the Portsmouth Navy Yard which the Navy Department has in contemplation. We therefore feel that when the matter comes up again for action, especially as it will arise at a time when a less hurried consideration can be given to our proposals, we shall be able to enlist a wider and more powerful co-operation from naval circles than we have heretofore had.

“In short, we believe that the stage here is already set for successful action if the legislatures of New Hampshire and Maine give substantial evidence of their firmness of purpose in the project. This of course, can best be shown by the passage of the appropriation bill which you have in mind for the proposed bridge; and we earnestly hope that the New Hampshire legislature will not hesitate to take the action which you are suggesting to them. We are informed of the details of the legislation which you propose to enact. Governor Milliken of Maine, was at the Capitol last night and this morning, when some of us had opportunity to talk with him, and what we are now saying in reference to the outlook for the proposed appropriation in Maine, is based upon the information which Governor Milliken gave us.

“You can assure the members of the legislature in the most emphatic manner at your command, that the Congressional delegation here will not relax their efforts to secure the best possible measure of co-operation in the construction of the bridge. But you should, and we ask you to add to this, an equally emphatic assertion that the condition prerequisite to the success of whatever we may attempt here will be speedy and wholehearted response on the part of the legislatures to the suggestions which this letter contains.

“Sincerely yours,

“(Signed) GEORGE H. MOSES.

Amend section 4 of said bill by inserting after the word "enter" in the twenty-sixth line of said section the words "upon warrant," so that said section as amended shall read as follows:

"SECT. 4. Jurisdiction and Procedure.—Temporary Injunction.—Such action shall be brought in the superior court of the county in which the property is located. At or before the commencement of the action a verified complaint alleging the facts constituting the nuisance shall be filed in the office of the clerk of the superior court for the county together with a notice of the pendency of the action, containing the names of the parties, the object of the action, and a brief description of the property affected thereby. Such notice shall be immediately recorded by the superior court clerk. After the filing of the complaint, application for a temporary injunction may be made to the superior court or a judge thereof who shall grant a hearing thereon within ten days thereafter. Where such application for a temporary injunction has been made, the court or judge thereof may, on application of the complainant, issue an ex parte restraining order restraining the respondents and all other persons from removing or in any manner interfering with the personal property and contents of the place where such nuisance is alleged to exist until the decision of the court or judge granting or refusing such temporary injunction and until the further order of the court thereon. The restraining order may be served by handing to and leaving a copy of said order with any person in charge of said place or residing therein, or by posting a copy thereof in a conspicuous place at or upon one or more of the principal doors or entrances to such place, or by both such delivery and posting. The officer serving such restraining order may enter (upon warrant) on the premises and shall forthwith make and return into court an inventory of the personal property and contents situated in and used in conducting or maintaining such nuisance. Any violation of such restraining order shall be a contempt of court, and where such order is so posted mutilation or removal thereof, while the same remains in force, shall be a contempt of court; provided, such posted order contains thereon or therein a notice to that effect. A copy of the complaint, together with a notice of the time and place of the hearing of the application for a temporary injunction, shall be served upon the respondents at least five days before such hearing. If the hearing be then continued at the instance of any respondent, the temporary writ as prayed shall be granted as a matter of course. Each respondent so notified shall serve upon the complainant or his attorney a verified answer on or before the date fixed in said notice for said hearing, and such answer shall be filed with the clerk of the court wherein such cause is triable, but the court or judge may allow additional time for so answering; providing such extension of time shall not prevent the issuing of said temporary writ as prayed for. The allegations of the answer shall be deemed to be traversed without further pleading. If upon the hearing the allegations be sustained to the satisfaction of the court or judge, the court or judge shall issue a temporary injunction without bond restraining the respondents and any other person or persons from continuing the nuisance. When the temporary injunction has been granted, it shall be binding on the respondents throughout the State of New Hampshire. Any violation thereof shall be contempt of court, to be punished as hereinafter provided. If at the time of granting a temporary injunction, it shall further appear that the person owning, in control, or in charge of the nuisance so enjoined has received five days' notice of hearing and unless such person shall show to the satisfaction of the court or judge that the nuisance complained of has been abated, or that such person proceeded forthwith to enforce his rights under the provisions of section 9 of this act, the court or judge shall forthwith issue an order closing the place against its use for any purpose until final decision shall be rendered on the application for a permanent injunction. Such order shall also continue in effect for such further period the restraining order above provided if already issued, or, if not so issued, shall include such an order restraining for such period the removal or interference with the personal property and contents located thereat or therein as hereinbefore provided, and such restraining order shall be served and the inventory of such property shall be made and filed as hereinbefore provided; provided, however, that the owner or owners of any real or personal property so closed or restrained or to be closed or restrained may appear at any time between the filing of the complaint and the hearing on the application for a permanent injunction and, upon payment of all costs incurred and upon the filing of a bond by the owner of the real property with sureties to be approved by the clerk in the full value of the property; to be ascertained by the court or, in vacation, by the judge, conditioned that such owner or owners will immediately abate the nuisance and prevent the same from being established or kept until the decision of the court or judge shall have been rendered on the application for a permanent injunction, then and in that case, the court, or judge in a vacation, if satisfied of the good faith of the owner of the real property and of innocence on the part of any owner of the personal property of any knowledge of the use of such personal property as a nuisance and that, with reasonable care and diligence, such owner could not have known thereof, shall deliver such real or personal property or both to the respective owners thereof, and cancel or refrain from issuing at the time of the hearing on the application for the temporary injunction, as the case may be, any order or orders closing such real property or restraining the removal or interference with such personal property. The release of any real or personal property under the provisions of this section shall not release it from any judgment, lien, penalty, or liability to which it may be subjected by law."

REPORT OF JOINT BRIDGE COMMISSION.

The Honorable Secretary of State then appeared and laid before the House the following report of the joint bridge commission:

REPORT OF JOINT BRIDGE COMMISSION APPOINTED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF NEW HAMPSHIRE AND BY THE LEGISLATURE OF MAINE TO INVESTIGATE THE QUESTION OF AN INTERSTATE HIGHWAY OR FREE BRIDGE BETWEEN PORTSMOUTH, NEW HAMPSHIRE, AND KITTERY, MAINE.

To the Legislatures of New Hampshire and Maine:

The legislature of Maine, by chapter 82 of the Resolves of 1917, approved April 6, 1917, authorized the state highway commission, under direction of the governor and council, to act in conjunction with any department or commission authorized by the State of New Hampshire in making surveys, plans and estimates for an interstate bridge across the Piscataqua river between Kittery, Maine, and Portsmouth, New Hampshire.

The legislature of New Hampshire, by chapter 246, Acts of 1917, approved April 18, 1917, appointed His Excellency, Hon. Henry W. Keyes, Hon. Jacob H. Gallinger and Hon. Calvin Page a commission to act with the state highway commission of Maine, and conferred upon them powers and duties similar to those set forth for the highway commission of Maine.

Upon request of His Excellency, Henry W. Keyes, governor of New Hampshire, a meeting of the two commissions was held in Portsmouth, New Hampshire, on October 10, 1917. The two commissions proceeded to organize a joint commission and elected the Honorable late Jacob H. Gallinger, United States senator from New Hampshire, as chairman, and Paul D. Sargent, chief engineer of the Maine state highway commission, as secretary.

The commission first proceeded to familiarize themselves with the history of the present toll bridge between Portsmouth, New Hampshire, and Kittery, Maine, and for this purpose consulted a report of the bridge commissioners of the State of New Hampshire to the legislature dated December 31, 1906. We quote from that report as follows:

"The Portsmouth bridge crosses the Piscataqua river a little above the Kittery Navy Yard from Portsmouth, N. H., to Kittery, Me. It has been in existence as a toll-bridge about eighty-five years, and was originally chartered in three states, viz.:

"First. By the State of New Hampshire in 1819;

"Second. By the State of Massachusetts in 1820;

"Third. By the State of Maine in 1821; very soon after Maine became a state of the Union.

"The bridge has been operated as a toll-bridge ever since that time by the 'Proprietors of the Portsmouth bridge.'

"In 1841 the 'Eastern Railroad in New Hampshire' acquired the ownership of its capital stock and of the bridge, and operated it for about twenty years for the tracks of their railroad, and as a highway, maintaining it, and collecting tolls for all passengers and traffic over it for all purposes, except by the railroad trains.

"About 1880 the Boston & Maine Railroad absorbed the Eastern Railroad in New Hampshire, and succeeded to the ownership, use and control of the Portsmouth bridge, and has since used it as a railroad bridge, and a toll-bridge for passengers and traffic.

"It is the only bridge connecting New Hampshire and Maine at this point, and for all the lower reach of the Piscataqua. The only other means of communication here between New Hampshire and Maine is by boat, regular or chance, plying between Portsmouth and the Navy Yard, or by a ferry run by the Atlantic Shore Line.

"This bridge is in two sections, or divisions, and extends from Portsmouth to Noble's Island, 500 feet, thence over the main channel to Kittery, 1,650 feet, making the whole length 2,150 feet, by 40 feet in width.

"It is an ordinary open, railed, wooden bridge, on piles, having a draw, and originally cost $40,000 in days when such constructions were much less expensive than now.

“It may not be unimportant to remark here that the original charter of this bridge contains no clause that the legislature may alter or amend it. The charter reserves no such right, and therefore is perpetual, it being necessary, as we view the law, to have such rights reserved expressly, as they have been generally since 1831, in order to invest the legislature with authority to amend or change without the consent of the proprietors. This indicates the protection these ancient charters can, and probably would, claim against any action of the public which should not meet with their acquiescence.”

At this meeting Mr. Page referred to a decision in the seventeenth New Hampshire reports, page 200, Dover v. the Portsmouth Bridge Company, in which more or less historical data in connection with the bridge are found.

The commission learned at this meeting from a representative of the Boston & Maine railroad, owners of the present toll bridge, that the railroad company had in contemplation the construction of a new bridge to take the place of the present structure. In fact, the railroad company has made considerable preliminary investigation with respect to possible sites for a bridge between Portsmouth and Kittery and would be glad to lay such information as they have in their possession before this commission. It was accordingly decided to hold a meeting at the offices of the Boston & Maine railroad on October 26 for the purpose of looking over data in the possession of the railroad company.

The commission at this meeting of October 10 made a personal inspection of various possible sites for a bridge between Portsmouth and Kittery.

At the meeting of the commission in Boston on October 26 the chief engineer of the Boston & Maine railroad laid before the commission tentative schemes for a new bridge across the Piscataqua river. The one which seems the most feasible from the point of view of the railroad company is for a new bridge a few hundred feet south of the present structure. This scheme contemplates a double-deck bridge to accommodate railroad and highway traffic, the highway traffic to take the upper floor of the structure. The design of the approaches to the highway portion of the bridge is very bad, being on a five per cent grade with sharp curves. The commission decided that this scheme would be entirely unfeasible for highway purposes. It was pointed out by one of the representatives of the Boston & Maine railroad that their charter granted the right to the Toll Bridge company to build and maintain a bridge across the Piscataqua river at any place on the margin of said river between Rindge's wharf and the town of Newington, and that should a bridge be located within those limits it would be necessary to purchase from the railroad company their franchise to build on such location.

After coming to this conclusion the commission discussed possible sites for locating a bridge to accommodate the highway traffic between Portsmouth and Kittery and between Maine and New Hampshire, and were of unanimous opinion that the only site which would fulfill the requirements would be a location south of Rindge's wharf on the New Hampshire shore from Brewery wharf in Portsmouth, crossing the southern end of Badger's Island, and thence to the Maine shore to connect with New Armory street in Kittery.

This location leaves the New Hampshire shore a short distance from the business center of the city of Portsmouth and is the most direct line between Portsmouth and the navy yard in Kittery upon which it is possible and practical to construct a bridge. A considerable portion of the business of Portsmouth comes from the navy yard. Practically ninety per cent of the employees of the yard live in the city of Portsmouth and a large amount of government supplies are handled between Portsmouth and the navy yard. For a full statement with respect to this point, reference is made to report of Admiral C. J. Boush, commandant of the Portsmouth navy yard, to the secretary of the navy under date of November 30, 1918, which appears later in this report.

A bridge at this location will accommodate the interstate traffic between Maine and New Hampshire better than any other possible site viewed by the commission.

At this meeting the question of making an engineering study for a bridge at this site was discussed. It was deemed unwise at the present time to expend a large amount of money for engineering investigation work, and it was finally concluded that the engineering department of the state highway commission of Maine should proceed to collect such data as is available and to make a design and estimate for a bridge at this location.

The above work was undertaken on the basis just outlined and tentative plans and estimates were prepared during the summer of 1918. Data with respect to foundation conditions were secured from the United States district engineer's office at Portland, Maine, and of course are only general. It must be clearly borne in mind that no special soundings, borings or investigation of any kind have been made as to the character of the river bottom. Consequently, estimates are general but are believed to be sufficient to meet any conditions which may exist. However, the item for contingencies in these figures is very small as no worse foundation difficulties can be encountered than have been anticipated. It being uncertain as to the character of the traffic or other conditions that the federal government and the navy yard might deem wise to provide for, the heaviest possible loading, even including a train of loaded coal cars, has been provided for. This provides a bridge sufficiently strong to carry the heaviest type of ordnance or equipment that could be handled at the navy yard. The bridge has been designed to carry the most modern type of bridge floor construction. Based on the prices of labor and material that existed in the summer of 1918, it is apparent that this bridge would cost somewhat less than three million dollars, but this figure is being steadily reduced owing to the falling tendency of the labor and material market.

Realizing that the federal government have a commanding interest in the location and carrying capacity of a bridge at this point, a hearing was arranged with the secretary of the navy early in December, 1918. As a result of this hearing the secretary expressed himself as being in sympathy with the project, and arrangements were made for laying the whole matter before the Naval Affairs Committee of the House of Representatives.

At this hearing, which was attended by representatives of the joint commission, Secretary Daniels made a very splendid statement as to the interest of the Navy Department in this project. The secretary presented to the committee a report from Admiral C. J. Boush, commandant, Portsmouth navy yard, which so well explains the government's interest in the construction of a new bridge that the report is reproduced herewith:

"UNITED STATES NAVY YARD,
"PORTSMOUTH, N. H., November 30, 1918.

"From: Commandant.

To: Secretary of the Navy.

Subject: Proposed free highway bridge between Portsmouth, N. H., and Kittery, Me.

References: (a) Department's letter 7940-488, November 18, 1918.

(b) Proposed interstate bridge between Portsmouth, N. H., and Kittery, Me.

"1. In compliance with instructions contained in reference (a) the commandant has communicated with the secretary of the highway commission and recommends the site proposed in reference (b), inclosed herewith, for the following reasons:

"It will reduce the distance between the navy yard entrance and Portsmouth to one mile, which should relieve the navy yard of any concern as to transportation of passengers.

"2. The actual saving in money to the navy is impossible to determine. There will be some direct savings that can be figured, but there are many indirect savings and advantages that manifestly can only be guessed at or very roughly estimated.

"3. By the existing Boston & Maine Railroad toll bridge the distance between Market Square, Portsmouth, N. H., and the navy yard is slightly over 2 miles. This distance will be practically cut in half by the route over the proposed free highway bridge.

"4. The direct savings to the navy in tolls and truckage are estimated to be as follows, the figures taken being the averages of past expenditures:

"Cost of tolls for industrial and supply department, and also marine barracks and naval prison, teams and trucks, per annum	$1,148.64
"Savings in expense of delivering material by local contractors to the navy yard,	1,620.00
	$2,768.64

"This saving is effected by the elimination of tolls and by the shorter haul. It has been taken as 50 per cent of the cost of past deliveries, which is considered to be a conservative figure.

"Saving in cost of operation of navy trucks and automobiles to and from Portsmouth (including tolls for same, which have been placed under item 1) (due directly to the shorter haul, and is figured on the basis of the actual cost of operation per mile) per annum	2,361.84
	<hr/>

"Total direct saving due to elimination of tolls and due to shorter haul for supplies, etc., per annum	$5,130.48
--	------------

"5. In addition to the foregoing there will be indirect savings and advantages as follows:

"Savings in Railroad Fares to Yard Employees.—At present there are something over 2,000 employees that come from the city of Portsmouth to the navy yard by train, the distance being too far at present to walk. There are, also, something over 500 that come by gasoline launches. It is considered a conservative estimate to say that at least three quarters of these employees would walk from Portsmouth to their work in the navy yard if a free bridge were provided, making the distance between Portsmouth and the navy yard only about 1 mile. On a peace basis, it is considered that there will still be in the neighborhood of 2,000 men taking the train and about 520 taking the boats. The fare by train is about $5\frac{1}{2}$ cents each way, or 11 cents round trip. Assuming that three quarters of these employees will walk if there is a free highway bridge, as proposed, the saving in railroad and boat fares to the employees will amount to more than \$64,000 per annum. In addition to this, numbers of employees come by automobile across the toll bridge. A very important point in this connection is the increased satisfaction and contentment on the part of the working force of the navy yard which, in itself, has a vital bearing upon the general efficiency of the work. It is understood that the employees have for some time been endeavoring to obtain free transportation from Portsmouth to the navy yard. The saving to the government by such increased satisfaction and contentment will, no doubt, be large, but it is impossible to estimate it. This yard has always had more or less difficulty in obtaining an adequate working force, and this is believed to be due in part to its isolation. Furthermore, during severe weather in the winter, much time is lost, due to delays and stoppages of transportation by rail and water, particularly so during the past winter. This results in decided loss to the navy yard work, and this would be eliminated by the free bridge as proposed. The advantage to the employees, themselves, is considered a point of great importance in the consideration of the construction of this bridge, and this works indirectly to the advantage of the government also.

"Elimination of Ladder Track Recently Authorized within the Navy Yard.—The problem of adequate transportation for navy yard employees has within the past two years been particularly serious. This has been the subject of several communications with the Navy Department, and there have been many conferences with the Boston & Maine railroad officials in an effort to solve the problem which has, at best, been solved only with fair satisfaction. In order to accommodate the Boston & Maine trains within the yard, a ladder track has recently been authorized along Goodrich avenue, at an estimated cost of $20,000. This can be immediately eliminated if the proposed highway bridge is to be constructed at an early date.

"Fire Protection.—The fire protection of the navy yard is not adequate, and this has been the subject of much correspondence with the Navy Department. The proposed highway bridge would make the Portsmouth fire department readily accessible for fighting fire in the navy yard. It is possible that at some time this would prevent the loss of much money and property to the navy.

"Unreliability and Dangerous Condition of Existing Toll Bridge.—The existing toll bridge is of wood construction, and it is considered hardly safe to count upon it as a permanent bridge. Last winter a portion of it was carried away by ice, and the whole bridge was saved only with the greatest difficulty and by the assistance of the navy yard tug and men from the yard. Traffic was interrupted while the bridge was in danger of being carried away and also while repairs were being made. This same thing is likely to happen again. In fact, it is possible that the whole bridge might be carried away. A similar bridge a few miles above it was partly destroyed by the ice, and it required several months to replace it. Should the existing toll bridge be carried away, a serious interference with the work of the yard would result.

*“Advantages to Enlisted Men of Ships at the Yard.—*Under existing conditions yard transportation to and from the city of Portsmouth is very unsatisfactory, except on the morning and evening trains for the yard employees, which are not available for enlisted men. Enlisted men have to take either gasoline launches or an unsatisfactory trolley line, connecting with a steamer which crosses the river. This is not only inconvenient for them, but it involves cost to them in getting to and from Portsmouth. A free bridge would be of distinct advantage to them.

*“Reduced Ferry Launch Service.—*Owing to the unsatisfactory and difficult transportation to and from Portsmouth, an elaborate ferry launch schedule is necessary between the navy yard and the city of Portsmouth. The ferry launch is used by the enlisted men of this station and the officers and others living in the navy yard and also by some of the employees, such as clerical and drafting forces, foremen, etc. It is also used for yard workmen and employees on night shifts and when other forms of transportation are not available. The ferry launches are, however, limited in their capacity and are not available to the large body of yard employees as a whole nor to the numbers of enlisted men from ships at the yard. The whole cost of water transportation is averaging about $39,615 per annum. It is estimated that about $32,000 of this is for the ferry launches. It is considered that if a free highway bridge were available, the ferry schedule could be materially reduced if not entirely abandoned, and a corresponding direct saving to the navy would be effected.

“6. It is understood that the proposed new bridge is to be of substantial construction on concrete piers and will be constructed at a height of about 50 feet above the water. This would be a considerable asset during peace and might be a very vital factor during war and the possible damage to or destruction of the existing old wooden bridge. Furthermore, the delays on the old bridge, due to the frequency of the draw being open, would be largely eliminated by the new bridge, which will be considerably higher above the water.

"7. The commandant is of the opinion that a new highway bridge such as is proposed would be of great advantage to the navy yard and its work, although the actual saving in money can not definitely be determined. The potential advantages of such a bridge would be very great. The swift currents in the Piscataqua river make water transportation difficult and dangerous.

"C. J. BOUSH."

The outcome of this hearing was a recommendation by the secretary that the government ought to participate in the construction of this bridge to the extent of one third of its cost. Members of the committee then informed the representatives of the bridge commission that the government could not undertake legislation looking toward an appropriation until Congress has before it a definite proposition from the two states as to exactly what they will do by way of appropriations.

Conclusions and Recommendations: This commission is prepared to state as a result of its study of this question that the present bridge between Portsmouth, New Hampshire, and Kittery, Maine, is obsolete and entirely inadequate and unsuited for present day traffic. It is a menace to the travelling public. We believe that every statement set forth in the report of Admiral Boush is equally applicable to the general traffic using this bridge. We believe that a careful compilation of statistics as to general highway traffic crossing the present bridge would indicate a much larger saving to the general public than Admiral Boush's report indicates will accrue to the federal government by reason of having a free bridge.

We recommend that the legislature of each state appropriates the sum of five hundred thousand dollars, to be available during the years of 1919 and 1920, for the purpose of constructing a new highway or interstate bridge to be of modern construction.

The report was accepted.

Mr. Wright of Sanbornton, for the Committee on Judiciary, to whom was referred House Bill No. 361, An act relating to business corporations, reported the same with the following amendments, and the recommendation that the bill as amended ought to pass:

Amend section 25 by striking out said section and inserting in the place thereof the following:

"SECT. 25. All records, accounts, and papers of any such corporation shall be open to the inspection of every stockholder therein at reasonable times and for legitimate purposes; and such portions thereof as have any relation to an overdue and unpaid demand shall similarly be open to the inspection of the creditor and his attorney. The clerk, treasurer, assistant treasurer or other officer or agent of any such corporation having the keeping of any such record, account or paper when required by any member or stockholder or by any such creditor on payment or tender of the fee allowed by law, shall furnish a certified copy of any record, account or paper which the party is entitled to inspect. If any such officer shall neglect or refuse for seven days to exhibit any such record, account or paper after an inspection thereof is demanded, or to furnish any such copy after demand and payment or tender of the fees therefor, the superior court shall have jurisdiction in equity, upon petition of a stockholder or creditor, to order any or all of the records, accounts, papers or copies to which the demand relates to be exhibited to the petitioner or his attorney at such time and place as may be designated in the order; but the court may deny such relief in any case where it is not reasonably satisfied that the inspection or copy is sought in good faith for the protection of the petitioner's own interest as a stockholder or creditor, and may impose in any such order such conditions as it may deem necessary to prevent communication to a business competitor or other improper use of the information to be obtained."

Amend the first paragraph of section 28 by striking out the words "in this state," so that said paragraph as amended shall read as follows:

"SECT. 28. Every such corporation may at a meeting duly called for the purpose by vote of a majority of all its stock, or if two or more kinds or classes of stock have been issued, of a majority of each kind or class outstanding and entitled to vote, authorize an increase or a reduction of its authorized capital stock and determine the terms of and manner of the disposition of such increased stock, may authorize a change of the location of its principal office or place of business, or a change of the par value of the shares of its capital stock with nominal or par value, or a change in the number of shares without nominal or par value, or a sale of its assets for cash, and may authorize proceedings for its dissolution under the provisions of section 33."

Amend section 33 by striking out said section and inserting in the place thereof the following:

"SECT. 33. The superior court shall have general powers in equity to decree a dissolution of any corporation organized under this act or such other relief as may be just (1) upon petition of the corporation whenever a majority of its stock shall have voted to authorize its dissolution as provided in section 28, or (2) upon petition of stockholders holding one fourth of its stock whenever actual or impending insolvency or other cause renders its liquidation reasonably necessary for the protection of the rights of stockholders or creditors, and may make such final and interlocutory orders, judgments and decrees for the winding up of its affairs, the payment of its debts and the distribution of its assets as justice may require; provided, however, that every such corporation shall nevertheless continue as a body corporate for the term of three years for the purpose of prosecuting and defending suits by or against it, and of gradually closing and settling its concerns and distributing its assets, and for no other purpose.

"The corporate existence of a corporation formed for a limited term shall in like manner continue for a further period of three years for the purposes named in the foregoing proviso, but shall cease ipso facto for all other purposes at the expiration of the term for which it was organized, unless such term shall previously have been extended by amendment of the articles of agreement under the second paragraph of section 28."

The question being,

Shall the House concur in the amendments sent down from the Honorable Senate?

Mr. Clyde of Hudson rose to offer an amendment.

Mr. Couch of Concord raised the point of order that the bill was not on its second reading and therefore not open to amendment, and that the only permissible parliamentary motions were to concur or non-concur and that therefore the gentleman was out of order.

Mr. Flanders of Manchester moved that the House reconsider its vote at the present time.

Mr. Flanders called for a division.

Mr. Clyde of Hudson raised the parliamentary inquiry as to the motion being in order.

The Speaker ruled that the motion was in order, having been offered by a member who voted on the prevailing side.

(Discussion ensued.)

Another viva voce vote being taken, the affirmative prevailed.

Mr. Flanders of Manchester having been recorded as voting with the minority on the roll call taken on March 25, the Speaker declared his motion not in order.

Mr. Tucker of Manchester withdrew his notice of reconsideration and moved to reconsider the vote at the present time.

The question being on the motion of Mr. Tucker,

Mr. Callahan of Keene raised the point of order that House Rule 26 prohibited reconsideration of the vote.

The Speaker ruled the point of order not well taken.

The question being,

He may fix a period of twelve months between the passage of this act and the meeting of the next legislature as the period of inquiry, and all judges and registers of probate shall keep a record of fees received by them during that period. On a viva voce vote the amendment was adopted.

On motion of Mr. Ahern of Concord, at 12.45 o'clock the House took a recess for 1 hour and 30 minutes.

(After recess.)

The Honorable Secretary of State then appeared and laid before the House the following message from His Excellency the Governor:

STATE OF NEW HAMPSHIRE.

EXECUTIVE CHAMBER.

CONCORD, March 25, 1919.

To the House of Representatives in General Court Convened:

I herewith return House Bill No. 309, entitled "An act relating to the board of instruction of the city of Portsmouth."

This bill, practically speaking, from the viewpoint of one who is personally acquainted with the situation, legislates out of office six of the twelve members of the school board of Portsmouth. This board has been working successfully and harmoniously for many years and the schools are in excellent condition.

The bill provides that when the board is reduced to six members, three of that six shall constitute a quorum. There are about three members of the present board of twelve who are quite likely to continue on the board after it is reduced to six. These three members, by this bill, will, therefore, be put in practical control of the schools of Portsmouth. This might not reduce the efficiency of the board, neither in my opinion would it increase such efficiency. But the sections of the city represented by the members who will go out of office eventually by this bill and the class of people who will then be unrepresented on the board will give rise to a feeling of injustice, which in turn will give rise to dissatisfaction and discontent and become harmful to the school system itself.

I, therefore, cannot approve of the bill and herewith submit my veto of the same.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN H. BARTLETT,

Governor.

The question being,

Shall the bill pass, notwithstanding the veto of His Excellency the Governor?

(Discussion ensued.)

COMMITTEE REPORT.

Mr. Roberts of Derry, for the joint committee appointed to wait upon His Excellency, the Governor, and inform him that the legislature had completed its duties, reported that they had attended to their duty and that the governor informed them that he had a communication to lay before the House.

The report was accepted, and immediately His Excellency, Hon. John H. Bartlett, governor, appeared before the House and delivered the following message:

To the House of Representatives:

The New Hampshire General Court of 1919 has presented to me for my consideration 256 bills and 55 joint resolutions, all of which I have signed, with the exception of two, one, House Bill No. 309, which I vetoed and which failed to pass over said veto, and the other, Senate Bill No. 23, from which I have withheld my approval.

This has been a legislature which faced an unusual situation and extraordinary circumstances. For this reason, I am presuming that you would desire me to review more extensively than otherwise the financial record of this legislature.

The legislature of 1917 appropriated for its two fiscal years sums of money which required a regular tax of $800,000 each year in addition to a special Mexican War soldier tax.

This legislature has appropriated sums of money which require a state tax of $1,800,000 for our first fiscal year and $1,500,000 for our second fiscal year, or an average of $1,650,000 for each year. Expressed in different form, this legislature has appropriated sums of money which require a state tax for the first year of $1,000,000 and for the second year of $700,000 in excess of the state tax of the preceding legislature. In other words, we have to account for the appropriation of about $1,700,000 for our two fiscal years in excess of the appropriation of the two fiscal years last past.

How do we account for this excess of $1,700,000 for the next two fiscal years over the past two fiscal years? In other words, what will the people of the state get in return for this excess in the state tax over two years ago, and what conditions have made this increase necessary?

The first item with which we were faced was an item of $365,000 to meet a necessary deficiency which we inherited from the last administration or administrations, and which arose because of unexpected war conditions, which could not be foreseen when the state tax was assessed by our immediate predecessors.

The next item (in bulk) which I call to your attention is $616,000, which this legislature has appropriated to the general cause of education, including the Agricultural College, in excess of what was appropriated by the last legislature. This sum divides itself naturally into three parts as follows: $107,000 would have been required by the Educational Department if the so-called Americanization Bill had not passed. That is, by its regular budget the Educational Department would have required $107,000 of this legislature more than it required of the last legislature. The passage of the Americanization Bill, however, called for $334,000 additional for the two years combined. Again, the conditions at Durham, created largely by the war, called for an additional appropriation, all things included, of $175,000. Every item of this appropriation for the college was gone over very carefully by the entire legislature and everything was cut as much as possible. The state will, however, acquire valuable additional property through this appropriation.

Again, for the two years combined, the highway appropriations will amount to $475,000 more than two years ago. This, however, reckons the increase in automobile fees over the sum at which it was reckoned two years ago. It also reckons an additional appropriation of $100,000 which qualifies us, with our other appropriations, to receive from the federal government nearly $800,000. This extraordinary sum which we are to receive from the federal government we could not afford to lose by failure to meet the necessary conditions imposed by the federal government. In fact, the state is extremely fortunate in being able to thus augment its available highway funds.

Again, the Agricultural Department will receive at the hands of this legislature about $60,000 more than from the last. This is to make possible the work which was recommended by a committee of our leading agriculturists, in whom I have great confidence.

We have appropriated for soldiers $26,500 more than two years ago, but this does not include the soldiers' bonus which I will mention later.

The additional expense of collecting the new inheritance tax we estimate at $24,800.

The increase in salaries is $14,000.

We have appropriated $18,000 to pay an old debt at Durham which has been running for years in order to clean up and start square.

We have appropriated $10,000 extra for dependent mothers.

We have appropriated $10,000 for a constitutional convention.

We have appropriated $10,000 extra to help check the spread of tuberculosis or consumption.

We have appropriated about $5,000 for the check of a serious disease.

This legislature was called upon to meet interest on war bonds, so that our extra interest charges were $66,000 more than two years ago.

The foregoing items are summarized as follows:

To cover deficiency	$365,000
Education and Agricultural College	616,000
State highways	475,000
Agricultural Department	60,000
For soldiers (not soldiers' bonus)	26,500
Expense of new inheritance tax law	24,800
Increase in salaries	14,000
Old debt at Durham	18,000
Dependent mothers	10,000
Constitutional convention	10,000
Tuberculosis	10,000
Check of special disease	5,000
Interest on war bonds	66,000
Total	$1,700,300

You will bear in mind that I am giving only a birdseye view of the situation, so that you can tell, generally, how we stand, and I am speaking in terms of two years combined and not of one year singly.

You will see that quite a considerable sum is appropriated in order that we may clean up old matters and start square with a view of running the state on the policy of "pay-as-you-go."

There remains about $190,000 of the half-million bond issue which is still in the treasury unexpended and unappropriated. A little more of this will be used in winding up the business of that appropriation, and it is understood that $30,000 of it shall be used to pay the United States government for the buildings at Durham. The rest of it will remain in the treasury as cash.

Now, on the other hand, this legislature has opened up new sources of revenue, for which, in dollars and cents, we shall not get the full credit. The extension of the inheritance tax law which has been passed by this legislature will produce, in my judgment, over $400,000 annually, or $800,000 for two years after it has had time to get under full swing. In making our state tax, however, we have been ultra-conservative in figuring only $100,000 from this source annually. My personal belief is that before the fiscal period ends for which we are legislating, this new law will produce an average of $200,000 instead of $100,000 as reckoned.

We have also enacted a modern, sound, and honest corporation law, which is a distinct asset to the state and which will produce some money, but we have made no account of this in reckoning our state tax. We have figured on a sure basis.

When cost conditions get normal again, and when the revenue bills which we have enacted get into a maximum operation, the state tax can again approach more nearly what it was before the war, unless we take on additional duties of expenditure.

The people demand new things and are willing to pay for them provided they get value received for their money.

We have left undisturbed the law by which the state collects each year over a million dollars in taxes from corporations, banks, insurance companies, etc., and then returns this money to certain cities and towns in accordance with existing law. While this money is paid into the state treasury as taxes, it does not go to the use of the state in any form. I do not believe in this law on account of the injustices and inequalities in connection with its return to the cities and towns. Some day this will be changed, but it did not seem to be a thing which we could fight out in this session.

We have added a half million to our state bonded indebtedness in order to take a long step toward emancipating the highway system of the state from the payment of tolls. This had become an imperative proposition. Civilization is not a success when private corporations own its highways. By this bridge law, we raise our bonded indebtedness from about $1,500,000 to about $2,000,000. This is not disturbing. After the Civil War we had a bonded indebtedness of over $3,000,000, and our property at that time was only about one third the value of our property at the present time. Our state is more conservatively bonded, I believe, than most any state in the Union. It is conspicuous in its conservative financial strength, and for this, much credit must be given to those who in the past and the present have stood firm against extravagance.

We have appropriated about $600,000 as a kind of a thank-offering to those gallant boys who risked all to preserve our civilization. It was in no sense as a payment, but merely an "appreciation." We can never repay them. This money is to be raised by a special tax, and I believe this is well, because it will remind every person in the state that he is contributing. He should do it cheerfully. The country should do more. We are bound to do more as we can. Those who actually suffered for us shall never suffer for money.

I believe the people of our state will surely justify the acts of this legislature with reference to financial matters. Nothing has been appropriated which can be called extravagance. Many meritorious proposals have been denied. The new steps which we have caused the state to take, involving expenditures, have, in my opinion, been veritably demanded by the duties and needs of this reconstruction period and in order that the affairs of the state may be safely and prosperously administered.

I am profoundly grateful for your sympathetic co-operation with me in the solution of the problems of this legislature. I thank each one of you personally for the spirit of kindness and cordiality which has uniformly marked your criticism and business association. During the remainder of my life, I shall regard as particular and special friends, you men who have thus been associated with me in the service of the state. I trust that our united influence in the future may be conducive of higher levels of citizenship in our state.

Having been informed by the joint committee of the Senate and House of Representatives that you have completed the business of the session and are ready to adjourn, I do, by the authority vested in me as governor, hereby declare the General Court of New Hampshire adjourned to the last Wednesday in December in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and twenty.

JOHN H. BARTLETT,
Governor.

Thereupon the Speaker declared the House adjourned to the last Wednesday in December, 1918.
